Kingman 4-H Club Achievement Program

FIRST NATIONAL BANK MAKES COUNTY ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

The Kingman Kolony 4-H clubs held their annual Achievement program Friday evening, Sept. 29th in the Adrian high school gymnasium. The program was opened by the entire group singing the Oregon state song, followed by the flag salute and club pledge. The singing was led by Beth Mitchell and Kenneth Elliott.

Emily Otis and Irma Points enacted a short skit entitled "The Lover's Errand."

Reports of 4-H club summer school were given by Susan Zamora and Bob Kurtz, they having attended the annual 4-H club summer school as the outstanding girl and boy in Kingman the past year. These scholarships were furnished by the Kingman 4-H clubs.

Blue ribbon winners for the past year were announced as follows: Dairy—Dorothy Toomb, who won first on her calf and first in fitting and showmanship; pig—Marlo Anderson; poultry—Gregory Thiel; baby beef—Ivan Zesiger; clothing II—Beth Mitchell; clothing I—Lela and Lama Didericksen; cooking II—Laura Dunbrasky and Forestine Wilson; canning II—Aurora Zamora; canning IV—Susan Zamora.

A large group of parents were present and were recognized by the wearing of a little 4-H cloverleaf.

A candle lighting ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Charles Newbill, who lighted a candle in the name of Kingman 4-H clubs. From the candles of the 4-H's a candle was lighted for each project in the community. There were 19 in all.

After the candles were lighted, Dudley Kurtz, Kenneth Elliot and Lorraine and Ardis McPate sang "Follow the Gleam".

Miss June Clark, who teaches home economics and physical education in the Adrian high school, and who has been an outstanding 4-H club girl for a number of years, gave a short talk on club work over the state and nation.

L. P. Thomas, editor of the Gate City Journal in Nyssa, and who has ever been a staunch supporter of club work, spoke briefly.

E. M. Hauser, county club agent, spoke to the group on the importance of boys and girls staying with whatever project they were enrolled in for a number of years in order that they make a business of it. Mr. Hauser also gave out ribbons to the two demonstration teams who had gone to the state fair. Nadeen Wilson and Nadine Nichols competed in a cooking demonstration with 18 other teams over the state and won 2nd place. This is their 3rd year in which to enter a demonstration at the state fair.

Susan Zamora and Stella Dunbrasky won 4th place in the state in a canning demonstration. They competed with 16 teams.

Susan Zamora was also given a ribbon for winning 10th place in the special bread-making contest in the state, with 25 girls competing.

Those who have led clubs the past year were asked to come forward. They were: Cookery, Mrs. D. L. Anderson; cooking, Mrs. Walter McPartland; clothing I, Mrs. Dutton; clothing II, Mrs. Wilson; clothing 3 and 4, Mrs. Newbill; pig, Ted Rogers; sheep, Susan Zamora; poultry, Stella Dunbrasky; wood-working, Walter McPartland; dairy, James Nichols; canning, Mrs. Elliott; vegetable garden, Daniel Zamora; rose and flower, Mrs. Florence Gowey.

Mr. Hauser gave out leader's pins to those who have just led one year. Those to receive them were: Stella Dunbrasky, Susan Zamora and Daniel Zamora. Mrs. Newbill, who has been leading for 5 years, received her gold pin.

Heinz Sonnekke of the First National Bank at Nyssa branch, gave out the third year pins, which are a gift to these club members from the bank.

Each year a boy and girl from Malheur county are selected as outstanding from the whole county in the work and past record of work they have done. These two young people attend three days at the P. I. L. E. in Portland, as guests of the First National bank. At this time in the program Mr. Hauser announced that Maurice Judd was the boy and Charlotte Connor of Annex as the girl who would attend this year.

Pins and certificates were given out to all club members whose work was completed. All projects have been completed with the exception of woodworking.

New plans are already under way for the new year's work with a hope to "Make the Best Better."

Sewing Clothes Electrically Speeds Work and Eases Toil

By IRA MILLER Rural Electrification Bureau

MENDING and making clothes always is a big job on the average farm. But it becomes even more of a chore during the school term when the youngsters more than ever must be neatly and carefully dressed. Undoubtedly, this is one of the principal reasons why a sewing machine still is considered a real household necessity by three of every four families living in rural areas.

Of course, there are other explanations for the continued popularity of this century-old household appliance. Despite the universal availability of cheap ready-to-wear clothing, many farm wives—especially those with large families—find it more economical to make many clothes at home. Then, too, home sewing makes it possible to obtain an individuality of styling and design not usually found in cheaper ready-made articles. Unfortunately for the womenfolk of the nation, a Government study shows that only from 10 to 30 per cent of the sewing machines in rural homes throughout the country are electrically driven. A foot-operated machine is tiresome to run and this lessens the amount of sewing which can be done in a given time. Also, because of its necessarily irregular operation, such a machine seldom produces articles as perfectly finished as does one driven by electricity. The farm wife need not wait until her present sewing machine is worn out to enjoy the advantages of electric power. A small motor can be attached with very little trouble and Sewing really becomes a pleasure when done electrically.

Power requirements of an electric machine are so small that energy consumption seldom will exceed one kw-hr. per month (usually less) even when much sewing is done. At the average domestic rate, this is less than five cents. It is difficult to imagine much greater ease and convenience for so little money.
