It is remarkable how much better Pursang makes invalids feel. And not only invalids but those who always feel "half sick" because of illness, overwork, wrong food or lack of exercise have reduced the iron content of their blood.

Physicians and hospitals now often prescribe Pursang as an aid to convalescence. If you are tired or nervous, can't sleep or eat well, or find it hard to recover from simple illnesses, try Pursang for a week or so. See how much better you feel.

Red Cross Warns Home Is More Dangerous Than Highway, Urges Check for Hazards

HOME mishaps kill or injure many more persons than motor vehicles, yet the average householder faces traffic with misgiving and relaxes at home.

Each year hazards injure more than 100,000 persons engaged in farm work, yet the farmer fails to take safety precautions which the factory worker adopts as a matter of course.

Together home and farm work accidents last year killed 35,499 adults and children and injured the staggering number of 4,750,000 persons. To combat this annual accident scourge the American Red Cross launched a nation-wide program in 1935 to acquaint householders and farm workers with the hazards coincident with their work and home life. This year more than 1900 Red Cross chapters are sponsoring this task in the communities they serve. On October 23 the annual Red Cross week will begin throughout the nation to assist householders to discover and eliminate hazards liable to cause accidents in the home. Members of the American Junior Red Cross and their schoolmates will distribute check lists to parents and assist in examining their own homes and in removing hazards. This Red Cross warning reaches more than 3,000,000 homes and farms each year.

The Red Cross stresses the need of removing hazards which may cause accidents. Half of last year's home accident fatalities. Among chief causes are poorly lighted stairs, loose railings, small rugs improperly anchored and children's toys left about. Burns and explosions caused the next heaviest loss of life, 5,300 being killed in 1938 by this type of accident, and the Red Cross self-check list points to the danger of scalding liquids in pots and pans left near the edge of
