THIS WEEK IN DEFENSE

Published through the co-operation of the Nyssa Gate City Journal, The National Editorial Association, Defense Advisory Committee and The Office of Government Reports

President Roosevelt, stating the European War is "coming very close to home," proclaimed an unlimited national emergency. The President called upon "all loyal citizens to place the nation's need first in mind and in action" and said " the nation will expect all individuals and all groups to play their full parts, without stint and without sefishness."

Speaking over the radio, the President said it is the U. S. policy to give "every possible assistance" to Britain and her allies by whatever measures are necessary. He also said U. S. will not accept a Nazi-dominated world and will resist any German attempt to gain control of the seas or bases which could be used for an attack on the Western Hemisphere.

PRODUCTION

OPM Director of purchases Nelson, speaking at Baltimore, said Germany is producing war materials at a rate of $50,000,000,000 a year. British production is at a rate of $15,000,000,000 a year "and the least we can do is to see to it that British and American production together will top $50,000,000,000.

Mr. Nelson said by "throwing himself and his business into the defense program a business man risks something: by staying out he risks everything—not merely his business but the framework in which it is conducted, the set of economic and political arrangements which make the very existence of his business possible."

LABOR DISPUTES

Labor Secretary Perkins appointed a three-man committee, including the Chairman of the Mediation Board and the Chief of the U. S. Conciliation Service, to select disputes to be referred to the Board. The U. S. Conciliation Service reported settlement of 23 additional strikes.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

President Roosevelt proclaimed July 1 as Selective Service registration day for all men who have become 21 since the first registration on October 16, 1940. Selective Service Director Hershey asked local boards to give serious consideration to individual claims for deferment of men engaged in agriculture. Gen Hershey notified local boards that Agriculture Secretary Wickard reported the defense program has drawn heavily upon the supply of farm labor and an adequate supply is becoming a serious problem, particularly along the Atlantic Seaboard, in hio and Michigan, and parts of Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Arizona.

ARMY

Army Chief of Staff Marshall announced that training maneuvers this summer and fall are designed to create an "all-purpose" force capable of operating in the Artic, the tropics, in desert or mountains. He said every man must be given basic infantry training before he can "pull his weight" as a specialist.

Undersecretary of War Patterson, speaking in New York, denied charges the Army is devoting too much time to basic training. He said "ours is not a mass Army, staking its success on sheer weight of men and machines." He said the ratio of infantry to air service-nine to one in 1917-18—is now almost one to one and "our plans call for higher proportion of armored and motorized units than Germany has today."

NAVY

President Roosevelt approved legislation authorizing the purchase or construction of 58 additional auxiliary ships. The Maritime Commission began imediate acquisition of the vessels, including the 27,000 ton "America," largest liner ever built in the United States. The Navy asked Congress to grant naval commanders authority to "take whatever steps they deem necessary . . . for proprer protection of the naval forces" in the U. S. territorial waters.

Navy Secretary Knox announced the Navy will open 23 schools for training regular and reserve enlisted men as petty officers. Mr. Knox estimated 114,500 of the Navy's 256,000 enlisted men will be petty officers by July 1. The Navy also announced a three-months course at Harvard to train 400 college graduates as supply officers.

AIR

The President asked Congress for an additional $2,790,000,000 for planes for the Army and $529,000,000 for planes for the Navy. The War Department announced that construction of new Air Corps schools is "proceeding much faster than expected," with eight of 100 stations already completed and 50 partially occupied. Some of the fields, the Department said, we completed in three months.

The Air Corps announced that examinations of applicants for flying cadet appointments who have not had two years of college have been changed to include seven instead of nine subjects, with two of the subjects elective.

PILOTS FOR BRITAIN

War Secretary Stimson announced arrangements to train 8,000 RAF pilots, bombardiers and navigators in U. S. Civilian and Army schools. The U. S. will defray some of the cost from lease-lend funds. Mr. Stimson said the program would not interfere with U. S. Pilot training.

SHIPS

The Maritime Commission awarded contracts for 123 additional merchant vessels. To date, The Commission said, 850 ships have been ordered—312 emergency vessels, 85 cargo ships for private concerns, 72 tankers and 60 ships on British contracts. The Commission said the first of the emergency ships will be completed by November, a month ahead of schedule.

Congress voted the President authority to requisition foreign ships in U. S. Ports.

MATERIALS

A sample campaign to test effectiveness of scrap material collection by the public is being conducted in Richmond, Va., and Madison, Wisc., under the direction of local defense councils. If the campaign is successful, the OPM said, it may be made nation-wide in the mean time, citizens in other areas were asked to refrain from similar campaigns.

NUTRITION

Agriculture Secretary Wickard told the National Nutrition Conference for Defense "at least three-fourths of us" do not have satisfactory diets. He said "we need to consume twice as much green vegetables and fruit, 70 per cent more tomatoes and citrus fruits, 35 per cent more butter, 20 per cent more milk."

Surgeon General Parran of the Public Health Service recommended the following minimum daily diet: one pint of milk for an adult and more for a child, at least one serving of meat, one egg or substitute, two green vegetables, two fruits rich in vitimin C, bread and cereal, butter or oleomargerine, and "other foods to satisfy the appetite."

PRICES

Leon Henderson, Price Control Administrator, reported that although industrial production is now almost 35 per cent higher than in 1929, the cost of living has risen only about three per cent and wholesale prices only about seven per cent in the past year, considerably less than during the comparable period of the World War.

He said leading oil companies in New England and middle-Atlantic areas have agreed not to increase gasoline prices "substantially" unless basic cost conditions change. He announced a ceiling will soon be placed on cow hide prices. He requested producers of amonium sulfate used as fertilizer to continue prices at the present level because there is no justification for an increase.

DEFENSE HOUSING

President Roosevelt approved construction of 9,900 additional dwelling units for civilian industrial worker families and Army and Navy enlisted personnel in 32 localities, and use of 274 trailers, renting for from $6 to $8 per week, as temporary housing in defense areas. Defense Housing Coordinator Palmer reported total allocations for family dwelling units to be 87,260 as of May 24. During the week ended May 24, 1,600 homes were finished making the total completed 12,261, Mr. Palmer reported.

Labor Secretary Perkins reported more dwelling units were provided in non-farm areas during the first quarter of 1941 than during any corresponding period since 1929.

Notice of School Election Upon Question of Increasing Tax Levy Over Amount Limited by Section 11, Article XI, State Constitution

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in School District No. 26 of Malheur County, State of Oregon, at the grade school in said school district, for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said district the question of increasing the tax levy for the year 1942 over the amount limited by section 11, articleXI, of the Constitution of Oregon. Said election to be held at the same time and place as the annual school meeting and to be a part of the proceedings of the same.

The reasons for increasing such levy are:

The school population has increased so rapidly that the tax base has lagged behind the needs of the school. There is also some question as to whether District 26 can hold the base it had prior to the formation of Union HighSchool District No. 5. Pending settlement of this matter it seems wise to vote on the question.

Dated this 20th day of May, 1941.

Attest:
B. B. Lienkaemper, District Clerk
O. E. Cheldelin, Chairman Board of Directors
