THIS WEEK IN DEFENSE

Published through the co-operation of the Nyssa Gate City Journal, The National Editorial Association, Defense Advisory Committee and The Office of Government Reports

Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia announced plans for a nation-wide Fourth of July celebration, with a radio address by President Roosevelt at 4 p. m. EST 6 p. m. local time) to be followed by the singing of the national anthem simultaneously throughout the nation.

Commenting on the arrangements, the President said, "... it is altogether fitting that we should dedicate ourselves to defend and perpetuate those inalienable rights which found true expression in the immortal Declaration. Those words never had a deeper or more solemn meaning for America than they have in this hour of anxiety and peril..."

FOREIGN AFFAIRS
President Roosevelt told his press conference the U. S. would give all possible aid to Russia in its war with Germany but that no list of Soviet needs had been submitted yet. The Treasury Department announced it had licensed Russia to use its $40,000,000 in frozen funds here. Acting Secretary of State Wells announced the Neutrality Act, which prohibits American vessels from combat areas, would not be invoked in connection with the Russian conflict.

Mr. Wells said that while the Communist dictatorship is as intolerable as the Nazi dictatorship, the immediate issue is defense against Hitlerism and the German plan for universal conquest.

The State Department ordered Italy to recall all Italian officials and cease all activities in this country except those at the Washington Embassy by July 15 because they "serve no desirable purpose."

AID DEMOCRACIES
The War Department announced unification of its air activities in a new unit known as the "Army Air Forces," consolidating present units in a single command under Major General Arnold, Deputy Chief of Staff for Air. Secretaries of War Stimson said the air forces are now independent within the Department.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority announced a $95,000,000 program to complete work on 250 airports now under way and to construct or improve 149 additional airports.

ALUMINUM COLLECTION
Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia announced July 21 as the date when governors, mayors and other officials, local defense councils and such organizations as the American Legion, Boy Scouts, women's clubs, labor, farm and religious organizations will cooperate in collecting unneeded aluminum from every home in the land. Mr. LaGuardia estimated that 20,000,000 pounds of aluminum—enough for 2,000 fighter planes—would be collected.

NURSES
Medical officials of the Army, Navy and Public Health Service, stated that a shortage of nurses is beginning to be apparent and appealed for a larger number of women to seek nursing training.

PRICES
Price Administrator Henderson announced he will set ceiling prices on new automobiles and, "in all probability," used cars, because certain manufacturers have refused to cooperate in avoiding inflation by keeping prices at their present level. Mr. Henderson also froze prices of tires, inner tubes and rubber at price levels of June 16 to prevent

PRODUCTION PROGRESS
The President said the over-all defense production picture is not discouraging although there is a serious lag in munitions production because entire plants have to be built before quantity production begins. He said, however, production of some items is already at peak.

ARMY
The War Department announced total strength of the Army as 1,441,500 officers and enlisted men, including: Regular Army, 505,700; National Guard, 288,800; Selectees, 594,000; Reserve Officers, 53,000. Army Chief of Staff Marshall announced that Congress will be asked for funds to add 100,000 more men to the Regular Army to replace those sent to outlying bases. The Army also announced that it has recommended to the President that steps be taken to obtain authority to continue the National Guard and Reserve Officers on active duty for more than one year.

price skyrocketing in connection diversion to defense of approximately 25 per cent of rubber consumption.

The Price Administrator also set maximum prices on pig iron, major raw material used in steel, and asked furniture and household refrigerator manufacturers not to raise prices.

PRIORITIES
The OPM announced action on crude rubber, zinc and tungsten compounds. Rubber consumption is to be reduced from 817,000 to 600,000 tons a year; 16,000 tons of metallic zinc will be reserved in an emergency pool to meet expected shortage; and priority control over tungsten has been extended two months past June 30, the originally scheduled expiration date.

President Roosevelt created a Committee on Fair employment Practice to investigate complaints of discrimination defense employment and ordered all Federal agencies to include in defense contracts a provision obligating the contractor to avoid discrimination. The President said in some instances workers have been barred from defense jobs "solely because of race, creed, color, or national origin."
