IN DEFENSE

Published through the co-operation of the Nyssa Gate City Journal, The National Editorial Association, Defense Advisory Committee and The Office of Government Reports

President Roosevelt sent a special message to Congress saying "we stand, as we did in the closing months of 1915, at the beginning of an upward swing of the whole price structure" and asked authority to set ceilings for prices and advances, to purchase commodities when necessary to assure price stability, and to deal more extensively with excesses in installment credit.

"The whole production machinery falters under inflation," he said, and the "unskilled worker, the farmer, the white-collar worker, the farmer, the small business man and the small investor all find that their dollar buys even less and less."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announced its index of prices, as of July 26, stood at 88.8 per cent of the 1926 average, 15 per cent above a year ago. Price Administrator Henderson said the crisis in the Far East necessitates a price ceiling on raw silk and may make necessary a ceiling in tin prices. He asked dealers and consumers not to pay prices for high grade waste paper above those prevailing July 26, "pending an investigation of the price structure."

President Roosevelt created an Economic Defense Board consisting of Vice President Wallace, Chairman, seven Cabinet members, and such additional members as Mr. Wallace may select. The President said the new Board will formulate the nation's international economic policy, coordinate the economic activities of defense agencies and plan for post-war reconstruction.

The President ordered the freeing of all Japanese credits in the United States and extended the order to Chinese assets to protect China against Japanese use of assets controlled from occupied China. The President also placed the Army and Navy of the Philippine Commonwealth within the command of the armed forces of the United States, and named Gen. Douglas A. Mac-Arthur, former Chief of Staff, commanding general.

The State Department protested the dropping of bombs by Japanese planes near the U. S. Gunboat "Tultulua," and announced the incident closed after the Japanese Government promised full investigation and reparation. Acting Secretary Welles denounced Germany for its note to the Mexican Government with regard to the blacklist recently issued by President Roosevelt and for the Nazi Government's reported threats of reprisal.

Lend-Lease Administrator Hopkins arrived in Moscow to discuss expediting of needed war materials to the Soviet Union and the Russian Military Mission conferred with President Roosevelt and the State Department. Acting Secretary Welles said Lend-Lease aid has not been discussed because the Russian Government can purchase needed materials with cash.

The Treasury placed on sale at Federal Reserve Banks tax anticipation notes intended to help taxpayers set aside sufficient money to met increased tax bills of the coming year. The notes are redeemable in cash or as payment for income taxes and bear interest up to 1.50 per cent. Secretary Morgenthau, in a letter to all banking institutions, said, "It is important that the taxpayers of the nation become aware of the unprecedented taxes they will have to pay next year on this year's income, and they should be encouraged to set aside funds now with which to meet those later payments."

The War Department created five air support commands in order to coordinate the activities of aviation units and ground forces. The Department announced the Signal Corps has developed electrical sentries that will warn of invading aircraft "long before they are actually sighted," but said the Army needs 500 mn from the radio engineering field to learn to operate the secret devices.

War Secretary Stimson said 1000 airplanes and 10,000 Air Corps officers and enlisted men will take part in maneuvers stressing coordination of ground and air strength in the Beaugard, La., area from September 1-30, in the simulated warfare between 50,000 men of the Second and Third Armies, and in the First Army maneuvers to be held in the Carolinas, November 3-30.

Defense Petroleum Coordinator Ickes recommended 100,000 gasoline filling stations in the following states be closed from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. every night beginning Sunday, August 3: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, District of Columbia, and "all marketing areas in or east of the Appalachian mountains in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia." He appealed for a voluntary one-third cut in consumption and said he hoped closing the stations in Eastern States might "plus the voluntary curtailment will be enough to put us across."

Director of Priorities Stettinius issued an order freezing all stocks of raw silk because of "unsettled conditions in the Far East." Mr. Stettinius announced a new plan to grant blanket preference ratings to projects which must be completed promptly. He issued a limited preference rating to 40 manufacturers of mining machinery and to 75 producers of cranes and hoists needed by defense manufacturing plants.

OPM Director Knudsen told Agriculture Secretary Wickard that the OPM will cooperate to meet shortages of farm equipment and machinery now hindering efforts to increase farm production. The Office of Price Administration revised its allocation program to increase storage space for farmers for the current grain harvest by increasing the quantities of steel and zinc for grain bin construction.

The OPM Production Division formed a defense advisory committee of the pulp and paper products industry and said defense requirements will increase consumption of the industry's products by 2,000,000 tons this year and an additional 2,000,000 tons next year.

OPM announced plans to increase the scrapping of worn-out automobiles by 1,000,000 tons a year, and said one car provides enough scrap for a light cannon, and 20 cars, enough for a tank. OPM asked zinc producers to set aside 27 per cent of their June production during August for an emergency pool, and said the supply of fabricated alloy steel for aircraft manufacture will be tripled before the end of next year.

Labor Secretary Perkins reported non-agricultural employment increased by 484,000 during June to reach a new all-time high of 38, 799,000—an increase of 3,365,000 since June, 1940, and 1,900,000 more than the June, 1929, record. WPA employment dropped 77,000 and NYA, 96,000, she said. OPM Associate Director Hillman asked airplane companies to employ and train women in defense jobs without lowering wages or working standards.

The Navy, War and Commerce Departments jointly proposed the 60,000,000 Americans born in this country but without documentary proof of citizenship apply to State bureau of vital statistics and similar agencies for "delayed birth certificates" to break the bottleneck by which native-born workers are barred from jobs in defense plants for lack of such proof of citizenship.
