A Tribute To The OREGON DAIRY COW

Among the contributions that the Snake River Valley country is making in the war effort, none is more important than the vital food supply furnished by our famous Oregon dairy herds.

The Oregon Cow, great producer that she is, provides milk, cream, butter and cheese, for our armed forces and those of us at home, in greater quantities than they were ever produced before.

At the present time the dairy industry constitutes one of the most valuable assets in Oregon's economic structure. And it will continue as a source of steady income for the duration of the war.

Secretary Wickard has said, "Food will win the war and write the peace". By producing a substantial part of this food supply, the Oregon Cow is more than doing her part in this program.

Electricity is aiding dairy farmers in many different ways in the production and handling of their product and in saving labor at a time when there is a real scarcity of farm workers.
