MANY SQUANDER MONBY

Reports reaching here indicate that highly-paid defense workers living on the coast are having difficulty paying their federal and state taxes on last year's income.

Some persons are in arrears on their income tax payments because of their own folly and partly because of wartime factors, such as extremely high prices in defense areas. Conservative persons who have been working in these areas report that some of the war workers are squandering their money in gambling and for liquor, apparently little realizing that their new-found prosperity will fade later.

After the war, the person who has remained with his job in the interior country, regardless of whether he is an employer or an employee, will find himself much better off than the person who has failed to save part of his big-time defense money. The present defense worker will be buying on credit or borrowed money and the other fellow will be paying cash for the many pieces of personal property that all families will be needing after the duration.

People do not seem to realize that we are largely governed by economic cycles that bring depressions and periods of prosperity. The person who fails to save during good times cannot hope to weather the storms of depression.

Food Farm War News

PHOSPHATE FOR "A" CROPS

So far 18 carloads of AAA superphosphate have been diverted for distribution to growers of "A" crops, mostly potatoes and vegetables. The phosphate is part of the allocation of 8,000 tons being given for distribution under the AAA conservation program. The diversion program was arranged to assure adequate supplies of fertilizer for "A" crops.

GOVERNMENT BUYS ALL WOOL

The government's Commodity Credit corporation is now the sole purchaser of domestic wool. The new program became effective April 25. As previously announced, growers will be paid ceiling prices for their wool clips. Grading and appraisal will be handled by the food distribution administration.

FOOD PRODUCTION FINANCED

Small farmers are making the greatest use of RACC loans to finance increased food production. So far 86 per cent of all loans made in the four northwest states have been for less than $2,500. 117 loans for $97,800 have been approved in Malheur county. The loans are available through the county USDA war board.

HOG PRICES

No ceiling will be placed on live hog prices so long as present controls keep hog prices in line with wholesale pork ceilings. Food Administrator Chester Davis has told a special committee representing the livestock industry. The government's support price for live hogs was recently increased from $13.25 to $13.75 a hundred, Chicago basis.

FOOD SEEDS TO AFRICA

Lend-lease shipments to North Africa since America occupation have included 200 tons of seeds to help raise food locally for our armed forces. Foods shipped include $1,500,000 worth of milk, $200,000 worth of wheat, $4,300,000 worth of flour and $4,200,000 worth of sugar.

ASPARAGUS PRICES

The Oregon USDA war board has announced that new ceiling prices for canned and quick frozen asparagus should reflect at least the following returns to the grower: No. 1, grade, 7 1/2 cents a pound; No. 2 grade, 4 1/2 cents a pound. These are prices at the farm, and 1/4 cent a pound should be added for asparagus delivered to the processor.

MEAT GRADING RULES

Farmers selling home-slaughtered meat must grade the meat in accordance with OPA regulations. Information as to the various grades and specifications for grading can be obtained from the County USDA War Boards. While farmers grade their meat themselves, local slaughterers and butchers operating under slaughter permits issued by the county war board are required to make application for meat grading service to the FDA meat grading service, 106 Livestock Exchange, North Portland.

DRY BEANS WANTED

The Oregon USDA war board is looking for farmers who will grow dry beans, one of the few essential war crops for which intended plantings so far do not measure up to the state goal. High in food value, beans are an important part of Army and Navy diets. Besides the needs of our own armed forces, the Russian army wants 5 million 100-pound bags this year.

FOOD FRONT BRIEFS

Selective service reports that as of April 15, 1,012,302 farm workers and operators have been deferred since last November. . . Linseed oil meal, cake and pellets have been brought under specific dollars-and-cents price ceilings by OPA. The ceilings are under current levels, reflect parity to the producer. . . Germany is draining the occupied countries to most of their foods, letting the Poles, Czechs and Greeks starve. . .

Buena Vista

H. L. Day left last week for a visit with his daughter and family in Missouri and his mother in New Mexico.

Mrs. Joe Callahan entertained the Our Out Way club at her home Thursday afternoon. Six members and three visitors were present. It was voted that the club donate $5.00 to the Red Cross. The hostess served refreshments of sandwiches, salad and pie. The next meeting will be held May 7 with Mrs. Alva Goodell as hostess at her home.

August Bartholoma of Haegler, Nebraska, Ruth Bartholoma of Denver, and Mr. and Mrs. John Bartholoma were dinner guests at the Alva Goodell home Friday.

Erin Jamison has been ill the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Maw and family were Sunday dinner guests at the Alva Goodell home.

Mr. Savage, Sr. is in the Ontario hospital to rest for a week or 10 day.
