MURDER WITH CLEAN HANDS!

The execution by Japan of American airmen is deeply significant for it provides Americans who are only nominally at war in the hearts with our enemies something on which to chew. Here we have an official Japanese admission of a war atrocity of first magnitude—clothed not even in the shame of a civilized conscience. Murder with clean hands!

We need not discuss the cynical excuse that our airmen were doing such an unholy deed, themselves, as bombing an enemy: the Japs were not innocent of bombing Manila! Nor if the airmen had been guilty of any crime warranting execution, the Japs utterly disregarded all protocol obligations of trial, notification and sentence. The Jap who was once eliminated from the Olympic games because he cheated has not corrected his ways: Those are his national rules. Murder with clean hands!

If Pearl Harbor made you hate Tojo and you have reserved sentence upon Hirohito as distinguished from the Jap military let the distinction vanish. The emperor of the sun god and his subjects who drink of his barbaric religion and dine of his perverted culture are guilty together. What a pity, though, to sacrifice American airmen, to impress upon us the kind of enemy with whom we deal.

It follows then that for the peace there will be required more than disarming Tojo. We very emphatically disagree with Mr. Willkie who shudders because Vice-President Wallace has proposed that we must police the thinking of the Japs. We believe the peace will require that the teaching of Japan be policed to instill in new generations liberal and humane ideals and a civilized religion. There is more to be removed from the Japanese people than a military rule and totalitarian form of government. That pseudo-religion which teaches back-stabbing, torture and murder with clean hands must be removed. And we say so advisedly and with full understanding of the right of Japan to freedom of religion, because freedom of religion does not carry the freedom to be barbaric and never did.

The murder by Japan without shame of American airmen should make us prosecute the war with renewed effort. And it certainly should redefine some of the requisites of the peace.—Baker Record-Courier

WORK DONE HERE ON TUBERCULOSIS

As early as October, 1942, the state and national tuberculosis associations were launching their 1943 early diagnosis of tuberculosis campaign. This 16th nation-wide campaign began in April, 1943. The theme for the 1943 campaign is "Following the Example of the Army and Navy—Have a Chest X-ray".

The fundamentals of tuberculosis work is the same but emphasis due to war on certain types of work must change. The Oregon Tuberculosis association points out. The conservation of civilian and industrial workers' health, treatment and rehabilitation of rejectees, attention to proper housing conditions, proper nutrition and proper working hours and working

Just pushing out from shore into a great ocean. We have to have all diligence. Get some pep into you; bring out the best you have and tie into life. Just let things happen to you-- they'll happen all right.

"Add to this fundamental foundation rock--faith in Jesus Christ--virtue, which is upstanding moral stamina and strength. So something to introduce a power into your life that will carry you through. Some, instead of calling on God in trying to reach momentous decisions, flip a penny.

"To virtue, add knowledge. If you want to add to your personality and happiness add knowledge of the Holy Scriptures, knowledge of beauty, knowledge of your fellow men and knowledge of yourself.

"Add to your knowledge, temperance. There is lots of temperance besides temperance in drinking liquor. I am talking about all kinds of temperance.

"Add patience. Learn to stay on the job when it makes you sweat. You have to patiently build your places in life.

"To all this add love--love for people and love for Almighty God". As the high school band, directed by A. E. Templer, played the professional, the 51 graduating students, wearing blue and white caps and gowns, marched to their seats in the front of the gymnasium.

Numbers on the program were as follows: Prelude, high school band; professional; invocation, Rev. Greenlee; hymn, congregation, led by Rev. Lloyd Pounds; "The Heavens Are Telling", girls glee club, directed during the program by Mr. Templer with the accompaniment played by Mrs Stella Young, regular girls glee club director; song, "The Lord's Prayer", Letha Moyes; sermon; "Hear Us, O Lord", Colleen Towne, Laelle Latham, Gale McCoy and glee club; prayer, Rev. H. N. Waddell; hymn, congregation; benediction, Rev. C. A. Slaughter, and recessional, high school band.

Wherever You Are Don't Forget Mother

Because mothers are the unsung heroines of this war, let's make mother's day, May 9 one they will long remember.

Remember to tell her that you, like all Americans everywhere, deeply appreciate the letters of hope she sends, the hours of labor she spends in Red Cross work, the faith she has in you and all the others who are all-out to win the war. Tell her so with a gift.

Be Sure You Remember Your Mother ON HER DAY—MAY 9.

The girl who married dear old dad is the nicest girl you ever had: So show her that you feel that way; make her queen on the 9th of May. Her role this year is more than great; for on her shoulders lies the weight of breaking ties, yet keeping cheer; of smiling through that would-be tear. We'd be defenseless in defense if it weren't for mother's common sense. Morale would be just another word if mother's case was left unheard. Hats off to mother is the theme--her day, our store can be a team. To make this coming mother's event a day of remembrances lovingly sent.
