HOLDING FAIR LAUABLE

Sponsors of the Malheur county fair were wise to continue this year the junior division of the fair, although the general fair was cancelled because of war conditions.

Continuation of the junior division last year and this year helped to maintain interest among the youngsters for the time when everyone will be following peace-time occupations.

The main fair was cancelled because of the desire of the government to avoid congregation of large crowds and the resultant invitation to the enemy to try some bombing practice. The Malheur county children had the satisfaction of exhibiting their products and they were not bombed by the Japs. In fact it is doubtful whether the Japs, now on the run in the Pacific, will get any where near the mainland with their airplanes.

The children in this agricultural area should be encouraged in every way possible to remain in agricultural work, because the destiny of this area is dependent on farming and stock raising.

THE NEWS FROM GERMANY

The news from Germany continues very encouraging, unless we are being made the victims of a huge Nazi hoax.

First we were told that Hitler had been deposed, Goering made the supreme ruler of the country, although after a couple of weeks one sees no changes as a result and becomes more suspicious than before, which is very suspicious indeed.

Other stories kept coming. Hamburg was 90 percent demolished, the population fled, wrecking German morale evreywhere with their hair-raising stories. This is probably true. We know Hamburg was really given the works.

Then Goering's wife was reported in Switzerland, which isn't hard to believe, for the Swiss are reliable, and why wouldn't the lady want to get out of the fatherland, into a decent, bomb-free country? Goering's money is probably there too.

Now we are getting the most important story of all—next to Hitler's ouster if that really happened, and the most important if it didn't. The German government is said to be evacuating Berlin, going to Vienna and other cities farther from our air bases.

Why is this important? For several reasons. First, it confirms our previous suspicions as to what damage our bombs do. Second, it shows the low morale of the German rulers. They must realize the effect of government removal on their people, but they seem to believe nothing like that matters any more, that only saving one's skin does matter. Translate this attitude to the mass of the Germans and there will be a collapse a la November, 1918.

Yes, the German news is cheering. Some of it probably isn't true, but enough of it is to reveal a very despairing picture as that once powerful nation staggers nearer and nearer to its doom.
