Farm WAR NEWS

WAR GAS NEEDS

War needs are the argument for closest possible cooperation by farmers in holding down the consumption of both non-highway and highway use of gasoline. A 6-hour mission by 1,000 four-engine bombers uses 1,800,000 gallons of 100-octane gasoline which from a strictly gallonage point of view would operate 1500 farm tractors using 1200 gallons a year.

MORE ACRES NEEDED

Need for an increased acreage of 1944 becomes increasingly important to the food production effort as prospects for better than average yields become less favorable. Latest reports of the bureau of agricultural economics reveal that the September-through-November precipitation was the lightest since 1939 and about 21 percent below normal. Crop reporters expressed particular concern about the deficiency in the great plain area, where a large portion of the needed expansion in acreage is requested.

1943 PAYMENT DEADLINE

County farm oprators who have not turned in a report of their 1943 conservation practices, or signed an application for payment, are urged to contact the county office or their community AAA committeeman within the next few weeks. March 31 is the final date for making application for payments earned under the 1943 program.

1944 RANGE PRACTICE

Improvement and conservation of rangelands to maintain peak production of war-needed meat and wool is the objective of a grazing land management practice in the 1944-AAA program. This practice, applicable only to units having at least 640 acres of grazing land, offers a payment of 2 cents an acre for carrying out an approved management plan, plus the cost of range improvement made, such as fencing, pipelines, supplemental water storage, stock trails and control of poisonous plants. Interested ranch operators may contact the county AAA committee for additional information on this practice, which required the filing of a management plan before the start of the grazing season.

EGG MARKETING OUTLOOK

The armed forces and our fighting allies will probably take 20 per cent of out record egg output, according to a report on present and expected government purchases from the food distribution administration. Included are lend-lease purchases for dried egg shipments which are likely to take 11 per cent of the total production. There is good consumer demand, and domestic consumption is expected to increase.

Commercial hatcheries reported output ob baby chicks in December considerably below December of last year. Less favorable feeding rations and difficulties in obtaining food in deficit areas were listed by the bureau of agricultural economics as the factors causing the decline.

Oregon poultry goals for 1944 call for a one per cent decrease in number of chickens raised, a 26 per cent decrease in commercial broiler production, an 8 per cent decrease in turkeys raised, and all-out egg production, with a decrease of 2 percent thought likely for a total output of 40 million dozen.

MILK COOLER UNITS RATIONED

Refrigeration units for immersion and tubular type farm milk coolers are added to the list of farm equipment rationed by the county farm rationing committee. They formerly were obtained by filing applications with the war production board. The change means that the refrigeration units will be obtainable with a purchase certificate insaead of the WPB approval and priority formerly required.

WICKARD ON '43 OUTPUT

Record food production in 1943, for the seventh year in succession resulted primarily because farm people applied their skill, resourcefulness, and energy to the job as never before, and secondly because they tackled it cooperatively on plans worked our farm by farm with federal and state help from one end of the country to the other, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard points out in his annual report.

AMMONIUM NITRATE

Ammonium nitrate is expected to be produced at the rate of 35,000 to 40,000 tons per month in 1944, according to WFA. This is a higher monthly production rate than ever reported previously, so maximum use of the fertilizer will by encouraged.

HOG PRICE SUPPORT

To protect hog growers who are unable to market at present and are forced to feed about 300 pounds, the WFA made a temporary emergency extension of the price support program to include good to choice butcher hogs weighing 300 to 330 pounds. The second extension of the support program became effective on January 27. To help prevent market gluts, the price support limit was temporarily raised to 300 pounds on December 23, from the originally announced range of 200 to 270 pounds.

Growers who have feed are urged to keep hogs weighing less than 200 pounds off the market until market congestion is relieved.

DISABLED VETS WILL BE HELPED

Anticipating the ultimate return of nearly 10 million persons in uniform to civilian life, and the problem of helping thousands of disabled veterans to readjust themselves to new occupations, plans for a long range post-war veterans welfare program were recently approved by the national council of administration of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. To make certain that this nationwide rehabilitation program will be established on a permanent basis, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S. will announce plans in early 1944 for a campaign to collect a fund of $1,500,000.

"Individual members of the organization, as well as all patriotic citizens, will be invited to contribute to this fund," according to advance information received here by District Commander J. J. Kollen. "With a goal of $1,500,000, the sum of $1,000,000 will be earmarked for direct aid to disabled and needy veterans and their dependents. The balance will be used to expand and maintain the facilities of the V.F.W .National Home, Eaton Rapids, Michigan, established in 1925 as a home for widows and orphans of veterans. It is expected that the present conflict will leave in its wake thousands of broken families and children minus at least one parent.

In the tentative plans to raise the proposed fund, every local unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will be requested to participate. Each chapter will be assigned a definite quota which is to be subscribed with funds obtained either as donations or raised through enterprises conducted under the sponsorship of the V.F.W. and other patriotic groups.
