

Washington, D. C. Aug. 10.—With a billion dollar fund in view, to be expended over a ten-year period following the war, proposals are before congress for a match-money program of airport building which will include every state in the union. It is proposed that congress shall appropriate $100,000,000 a year and that this money shall be allocated to the states on a 50-50 basis in relation to the area, population and number of registered aircraft in order to equalize air transport development throughout the country. The proportion of this sum available to Washington and Oregon would be determined by these three considerations and the willingness of the states to cooperate. Until action is taken by congress there is neither appropriation nor legislation to implement the program as proposed by civil aeronautics administration. As a nucleus for this vast system of airports there is now being com-

which the United States has acquired some 600 new or improved landing fields which will be retained for the use of civilian aviation. Altogether, there are now 3,086 airports but it is anticipated that double this number will be needed in the five to ten years following the war. CAA emphasizes the importance of smaller types of landing fields in the future building program to the end that there may be a field within easy reach of every community in the day when airplanes will become an important factor in the transportation system. The smaller fields would be used for personal flying and local air service, the larger terminals to become transportation centers similar to a railroad station. Under the CAA plan there would be 1,827 cities with airports which could accommodate charter service and small feeder lines. At present there are only 286 places that are approved stops on scheduled air lines, at some of which air service has been suspended because of unsatisfactory conditions. Applications have been received by CAA to begin service to some 720 new points of which 612 require further construction. A voluminous report, showing these and other data, is being prepared for submission to congress when it reconvenes after the summer recess and adoption of the proposed program will be urged as a means of affording employment in the post-war period. Refusal of war production board to permit the use of corn in making whiskey has spoiled the August "holiday" granted distilleries, during which they will not be required to produce industrial alcohol. The bourbon picture and can replenish their depleted stocks of potable liquor only by distilling alcohol from wheat and marketing a blend of doubtful quality. And even so, they will be further handicapped by limiting their operations to such quantities of wheat as war food administration is willing to release. Even here there is a joker. Marvin Jones head of WFA, is a "dry" and he is not expected to be generous in the amount of grain which he will permit to be turned from its normal use as food for humans and feed for livestock. Altogether, the "holiday" will be of no great advantage to drinkers or profit for distillers. Results of the invasion of the Cherron peninsula of France have thrown a monkeywrench in the war production program which may reduce the amount of steel allocated for the manufacturing of farm machinery. Some time ago the production of tanks was cut in the belief that more were on hand than would be needed, but losses of tanks in France have been heavy and now there is demand for immediate stepping up of the tank program. Tanks require steel, just as does farm machinery, and war needs come first. Despite the highly favorable turn in the war situation, the army cannot afford to take chances and even though the tanks now on the assembly line may never leave the shores of the United States production must continue until Germany has surrendered. Also, the maritime commission is demanding more and more ships and this will require still more steel. Once again steel is the yardstick for "civilian goods" just as it is for war purposes. Indicative of the change which has taken place in the American standard of living is the fact that the first ten items in the list of "essential" goods for civilian goods as announced by war production board were deemed luxuries a few years ago were wholly unknown in American households. All of them are appliances dependent upon the use of electricity, such as refrigerators, ranges, heaters, vacuum cleaners, etc., which will be the first civilian goods produced after the war.

plays. ATTENTION ALL SEED GROWERS

The Agricultural Adjustment Agency has advised us of the program to encourage farmers to increase grass and legume seed production for 1944. All growers of legume seeds need this information and we take this method in helping to acquaint growers with some of the main features of the seed production program. Many farmers will have to decide within the next week or ten days whether to save alfalfa meadows for seed production or cut for hay. We think that it is going to be more profitable to let go for seed in view of the "practice Payment" of $3.50 per acre plus the subsidy payment of $2.50 per hundred, both of which they are to receive on the 1944 crop. These two features are the main points of agricultural program. Every farmer who has acreage that might possibly make seed should get full information on this subject. Write to us, if interested, and we will gladly furnish full information on this important subject. Or write your nearest State and County AAA committee. WATTS SEED COMPANY Box 54 Parma, Idaho

Dairy Foods Store

Opening Tuesday, August 15

Beginning next Tuesday, we will provide Nyssa with its first dairy food store, a plant that is strictly modern in every way. Installation of a new refrigerating plant, pasteurizer, cream separators and other equipment assures our customers of sanitary dairy products. This equipment brings our store up to standard for a Grade A plant.

At the West Entrance to the Under-pass

We will handle milk, cream, buttermilk and cottage cheese and will add other dairy products as soon as possible. We will dispense milk through the plant and the local grocery stores. Time and money have not been spared in making this one of the best and most neatly equipped dairy stores in this section of the country. We Invite You to Inspect Our New Plant
