

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.—There is a prospect that $2 per 1,000 feet will be added to the price of lumber in Oregon and Washington. Loggers are now taken from a starting point in the morning and conveyed to the scene of operations in the forest, returning home the same way. The ride averages, it is stated, about two hours. For this two hours (going and coming) the loggers are supposed to be paid overtime at the rate of one and one-half, as the time for the ride is in addition to the eight hours of actual work.

Logging operators do not object to the payment of overtime while the loggers are taking a ride, as they can cover that charge by increasing the price of lumber, all of which is bought by the federal government anyway. What irks the operators, however, is the word that has been passed out that they will be compelled to pay for these rides for the past two years—the pay is to be retroactive. Why for two years and not three years, or one year, is not explained. As the logging operators "back when" did not think they would have to pay for giving the lumberjacks a ride, no fund was set up to meet the prospective demand. And that is what is bothering the logging operators in the Pacific northwest.

Many members of congress are rallying to the belief that the federal government should pay taxes or something in lieu of taxes, for the great expense of government owned land. This demand for compensation from the federal government for property removed from the tax rolls was initiated in the Pacific northwest states and has spread to the entire far west, where Uncle Sam is a substantial landowner. Today the movement is being joined by senators and representatives from eastern states and with each new congressman converted the backing for payment becomes more insistent. Half a dozen measures are now sleeping in various committees each dealing with some phase of the government ownership question. Out of this assortment of ideas it is expected that some bill embodying a compromise proposal will eventually emerge.

Because of the acquisition by the federal government of land in the northwest there are instances of school districts being wrecked, wiped out, because the resident taxpayers were unable to carry the load. Private timber owners are assessed in school districts and timber land has been gerrymandered into these districts, but the national forests are exempt from all sorts of taxes.

The Main Streets of America Are the Main Springs of America

The American farmers and the small businessmen of American main streets are the backbone of our national life. The farmer feeds the nation, and at present is feeding a war stricken world. He is assisted by the small town business man. These two groups are closely allied-teamed together in the long pull for the production of a world food supply. They receive less assistance and are subjected to more official annoyance than any other groups in our national life.

Farmers Are Hampered

The American farmer has turned in a masterful performance, although W.M.C. took his labor, the W.P.B. refused new machinery, and the armed forces took his sons. THEY HAVE ALSO BEEN INFLICTED WITH O.P.A. This multiple-tentacled monster of bureaucracy has placed the American farmer and business man in a bureaucratic straight jacket. THERE ARE NOW IN FORCE 32,000 PAGES OF O.P.A. RULES. Writing, amending and enforcing these rules employs 57,419 persons. THERE HAVE BEEN CREATED OVER TWO HUNDRED FEDERAL BUREAUS, BOARDS, COMMISSIONS AND ADMINISTRATIONS SINCE 1933. From March 14, 1936, to June 29, 1944, these agencies turned out, and there was printed in the Federal Register, 76,541 directions, orders, rules and prohibitions, using 93 million words, covering 62,202 pages. Reading eighty words a minute, eight hours a day, forty hours a week, it would take nearly ten years of uninterrupted going to wade through this mess. THESE RULES HAVE THE FORCE OF LAWS. VIOLATION MAY RESULT IN REFUSAL OF GAS COUPONS, NEEDED TIRES OR IN FINES AND JAIL SENTENCES. The ultimate aim of these bureaucrats was stated by a high ranking aid to the President, Mr. Adolf A. Berle, at present an assistant secretary of State who said in 1939: "Briefly," said Mr. Berle, "the Government will have to enter into direct financing of activities now supposed to be private; and a continuance of that direct financing must be, inevitably, that the Government will control and own these activities....Over a period of years, the Government will gradually come to own most of the productive plants in the United States." A commission appointed in 1933 to study public service personnel reported in 1935, saying in part: "Unless the trend toward that kind of government is reversed it may well be doubted whether it is possible for democracy to continue." WE ARE INFORMED THAT WE SHALL HAVE O.P.A. WITH US FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD AFTER THE WAR.

Government Straight Jacket Prelude to Fascistic Control
The rigors of O.P.A. regimentation make a fertile field for the Sidney Hillman type of government. Hillman has long been a close aid to the President. The nomination of the Vice President was "cleared through Sidney" by orders of the President. The President sold out the Democratic party to Hillman and C.I.O. who are liberally financing the Democratic campaign with money taken from labor. The present administration will never clean out the bureaucrats and political grafters. Dewey did it in New York. He will do it in Washington. Mr. American Farmer and Merchant, where do you think you sit in this picture?

This column will be conducted by the Malheur County Republican Committee during the present campaign. Watch for week to week discussions of the issues that control the future of the American people.
