TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

DUST BOWL LESSON LEARNED

With the lesson of "Dust Bowls" fresh in their minds, American farmers during this war are using their land more wisely today than they did in the last war, the Office of War Information reports on the basis of data from the Departments of Agriculture, Interior and War. Farmers plowed up 30 million acres of land unsuitable for row-crop cultivation during the last war. During this war they have plowed up less than 1,170,000 acres of such land, and much of this has been put in Victory Gardens where it can be kept well under control. Airfields have caused one of the worst recent soil erosion problems. Spinning wheels caused miniature dust storms—resulting in damage to planes and injury to the men. Soil conservation experts and Army engineers, however, have worked out methods of protecting the runways and preventing these miniature "Dust Bowls" from getting started. THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This is Fire Prevention Week, by proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. One out of every three persons who lost their lives as a result of fires in the United States last year was a farm person. The Department of Agriculture reports. Fire is more hazardous on the farm than in the city because few farms can call on a trained fire department for assistance, most farms are not equipped with a ready water supply for fire-fighting, farm buildings usually are not as fire resistant as city buildings and farmers usually carry less fire insurance than city people do. Farm fire prevention suggestions have a readily available ladder that will reach to the top of the highest building, see that there is a water supply for fire fighting in the farm yard, and establish firebreaks around haystacks, farm building and maturing farm crops of high fire hazard.

MAY EASE DADS FUEL BILL
Coal shortages this year have prompted the Solid Fuels Administration For War to offer householder the following fuel-saving suggestions:
"Winterize" with insulation, storm sash and weather-stripping; clean and repair heating plant; install temperature control device; keep room temperature as low as health and reasonable comfort will permit; clean furnace regularly during heating season; keep windows closed as much as possible; and close off unused room space. To assist in fuel-saving, ill weather bureau stations in 25 States east of the Mississippi River and in Minnesota are determining a date in each community after which continuous central heating should be necessary. OUTLOOK FOR LIVESTOCK PRICES

With fewer hogs to be marketed this Fall and Winter and with large non-civilian pork purchases, the hog price outlook is more promising than a year ago, the Department of Agriculture says. Total calf slaughter this year will reach an alltime high. The large slaughter has resulted from high butterfat prices in relation to dairy cow prices, a weak demand for calves by cattle feeders, relatively high prices for veal calves for slaughter and record numbers of cows on farms. Prices for lambs are likely to average higher this Fall and Winter than a year ago, and ewe prices, now lowest since the Fall of 1941, are expected to continue lower than a year ago. AID FOR WAR VICTIMS

Since Poland was invaded in 1939, Americans have given more than $175,000,000 to war victims of more than 20 countries, the President's War Relief Control Board reported in calling attention to the second National War Funds Drive to be conducted during October. Before the War Relief Control Board was established, 700 agencies were appealing to the public separately for support. Now only 110 agencies are authorized to engage in foreign and domestic war charity—including United Service Organizations, United Seamen Service, War Prisoners Aid, and local Community Chest Services. The $250,000,000 fund sought this year is expected to bring aid to 60 million persons. SAFETY RULES FOR PAPER SAVING

When salvage paper is collected, to avoid fire hazard, the Department of Agriculture recommends that it be stacked neatly and tied in bundles. Paper boxes should be flattened, then tied in tight bundles. A metal trunk or bin with a tight cover is the safest place to store paper. Next best is to stack paper bundles on a cement floor away from furnace, stove or hot pipes. Soiled or oily paper is useless for salvage and is also a fire hazard and should be destroyed. TOBACCO CONSUMPTION NEAR RECORD

While domestic tobacco consumption has declined in recent months, this decline has been offset by shipments to Armed Forces abroad, so that overall consumption is at or near the highest in the history of the industry, the Department of Agriculture reports. NEW RATION BOOK FOR CANADIANS
Between October 14 and 21, each of Canada's 11,590,000 consumers is expected to get his fifth new ration book. Sugar, butter and preserves are the only foodstuffs now rationed. Rationing of tea, coffee and meat has been suspended for sometime. NOT A MAN IN THE PLANT
The women have it all their own way in one Melbourne, Australia war plant. Now entering its fourth year of operation, this plant is run entirely by women, ages 25 to 40. Most of the women had never worked outside their homes before they took their present jobs. Among other things the women turn out steering gears for Bren gun carriers and telescope holders for 25-pounders. Miss Orene Searles, General Manager, is now in the U. S. studying latest production methods. RABBIT COMES INTO HIS OWN
When early English settlers moved to Australia, they took rabbits with them, according to the Australian News and Information Bureau. Australia then spent millions of dollars trying to get rid of the offspring of these rabbits. The Australians hunted them with guns, traps, poison bait, ferrets and gas. In Western Australia they even built a supposedly rabbit-proof fence from North to South. Still the rabbits increased. Then came the war. Other meat grew scarce. Rabbit meat was coupon-free. Recently, the Indian Government asked for Australian rabbits to breed for food for her services, and export of rabbits to the United States is increasing. Today, Australia's one-time pest is practically a national hero. TO HELP VETERANS WITH HOUSING

To provide living quarters for war veterans, honorably discharged since December 31, 1940, who are unable to find them, the WPB and the National Housing Agency offer immediate priorities assistance for construction, alteration or betterment of houses. Veterans should apply on Form WPB-2898 at the nearest Federal Housing Agency office. If the veteran does not know where the nearest FHA office is situated his local banker should be able to tell him. ROUND-UP
OPA says—More than 88 million persons live in rent-controlled areas in the U.S. Farmers will pay about 40 cents a hundred pounds more for dried beet pulp and dried molasses pulp as a result of new ceiling prices. Highest retail prices for cranberries is expected to be about 41 cents a pound, since ceilings have been revised due to weather damage to the crop.

The Department of Agriculture says—Total feed grain supplies for the 1944-45 feeding year are estimated to be third largest on record. The aerosol bomb method of combating mosquitoes, which in 10 seconds can release enough poison to kill mosquitoes in a large room, shows postwar promise for household use against flies and mosquitoes and for protection of certain built-up supposedly rabbit-proof fence from North to South. Still the rabbits increased. Then came the Chicago basis, for good and choice butcher hogs, 200 to 240 pounds, and a cotton loan rate on the 1944 crop of an average of 20.03 cents a pound, gross weight, for 7-8 inch middling cotton. West Coast shipbuilding and repair yards need 25,000 more workers in October, and 2,000 workers are needed for naval repair work at Pearl Harbor. Workers will be recruited through United States Employment Service offices in all parts of the Country. Sale of second hand school buses and other local passenger transportation equipment is now unrestricted, but purchasers to obtain gasoline must qualify for certificates of war necessity the ODT says. For the first time in the Country's History, births exceeded the three million mark in 1943, the Department of Commerce reports.

IT'S NO CIRCUS!

They may look like daring young men on the flying trapeze. But they're electric linemen, fifty feet in the air, with no net underneath. It's tough enough up there on a sunny summer day. It's much worse on a wet black night — or when everything's slippery with sleet. But the job must be done. It's part of giving you good electric service.

Fortunately, there are men who have the courage and skill to do it. Just as there are other men who control complicated switchboards in lightning storms, or keep a careful watch on giant turbines, or crawl in hot boilers to make repairs.

These folks know what to do because they've been doing it a long time. Men and women grow up in the electric light and power business. It takes years to become a power-plant engineer. Lineman — load dispatcher — service man — almost every job is specialized and technical.

The value of this practical experience — and of sound business management — has been dramatically proved by war. In spite of shortages of many essentials, there is no shortage of electricity — and it is still sold at low pre-war prices!
