THERE'S MORE SUGAR COMING

Housewives who have found their sugar stamps temporarily worthless because their grocer's sugar shelf was bare may take hope, now that the War Food Administration promises stepped-up production from the Nation's sugar-beet factories in the West and Midwest. On September 1 the Nation's sugar inventory was lower than on any date since 1935. During the first eight months of this year, 483,000 tons of sugar were distributed in the U.S., than in the same period of 1943. Most of the increase went to civilian usage for preserving and canning. In one form or another, civilians got most of the increase—in preserving and canning of fruits and vegetables, in larger-than-normal production of condensed milk and in supplemental allotments for other purposes.

RECLASSIFY MEN 38 AND OVER Men over 38 who have been anxiously watching the mail-box to learn of their final disposition under National Selective Service can now relax and continue their civilian work with the assurance that they are in an age group not acceptable for induction into military service. Local boards have been instructed to place registrants of 38 and over in IV-A, to retain in I-C all men honorably discharged and to discontinue the I-A/L classification. Men in Class I-C may not be removed from this classification without action by the Director of Selective Service. Local Boards will put in other deferred classification men found physically acceptable for limited military service only, who have heretofore been placed in Class I-A/L.

LESS NITROGEN AND PHOSPHATE

U.S. farmers probably will have less nitrogen and phosphate fertilizers to use on 1945 crops because of increased military use of these materials, WPA reports. The supply of polish, WPA says, will be materially larger than last year. If farmers lay in their fertilizer stocks soon this will clear the way for manufacture of more mixed fertilizers in case the supply situation improves in time.

HEY KIDS, LISTEN TO THIS You got it from WPA that there will be a few toy soldiers and miniature automobiles and trucks made out of zinc on the market this year. The folks may not be able to buy new electric lights for the Christmas Tree, but they can get tinsel and those gorgeous, colored blown glass ornaments. Tell the folks that while toys will be a little higher they will also be a little better—less paper-board and more wood and metal.

And if you're looking for ideas to put into a letter to Santa Claus, here's some information to keep in mind—rubber for toys, still prohibited—tricycles, scooters and other heavy toys, not being made—electric trains none, but some new track for electric railroad maintenance is on the market—toys with gears, not to be had—some wagons with wooden wheels and some with metal wheels—fewer sleds than before the war and some of them with wooden runners—some doll carriages with metal chassis, others with wood—doll carriage tires, to be made of "mud", the residue by-product of reclaimed rubber—dolls in pre-war quantities, with curls, moving eyes and even voices—plenty of teddy bears and stuffed toys—more of those new plastic doll dishes and a few modern, steel unbreakable dishes—both metal and wood construction sets, 10,000 of the metal ones with electric motors—a "fair" supply of chemistry sets—a "limited" boards and other games this year supply of checkers, dominoes, dart because your "G.I." brother is getting some of your share.

APPLE CEILING STAYS UP Reduced apple yields have led the Office of Price Administration to extend the September increase in apple ceiling prices to cover the rest of the season in nine of the 11 States in which OPA granted a September increase. The nine States covered are Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Arkansas. The increase of 1.267 cents a pound—equivalent to 57 cents a box or bushel—will be carried through wholesale and retail transactions to the consumer.

J.S. AND U.K. EXCHANGE RUBBER More than half of the crude rubber produced by the British Commonwealth is coming to the United States as reverse Lend-Lease this year, the Foreign Economic Administration announces. Meanwhile, the United States is supplying to the United Kingdom under Lend-Lease, 86,000 tons of general purpose synthetic rubber, together with tires. This quantity of synthetic rubber is equivalent in manufacturing processes to approximately 70,000 tons of crude rubber. This exchange works out very satisfactorily, FEA production programs. The manufacturers, inasmuch as natural rubber is essential to synthetic rubber in most ture of truck, bus and aircraft tires still uses an appreciable quantity of crude rubber. Ninety percent of the tires that go to the U.K. are for military use, the remainder for essential civilian services.

TIMES TO "START DIGGING" "Shelve everything else" and "start digging" was the advice a German radio speaker recently gave to men and women living along the West Wall, as reported by the Federal Communications Commission. The speaker said that while the German words, "Schanzen", which mean to dig trenches and build earthworks, "smells of sweat and toil," it is "fine manly" and "healthy exercise".

FAMINE, FLOODS, COLD, DARKNESS "Famine, floods, cold and darkness" threaten the densely populated provinces of German-occupied Netherlands, the Netherlands Foreign Minister warned in a recent press conference reported by Aneta, official Netherlands News Agency. As a result of German inundation of Dutch farm lands, much of it was salt water, the Netherlands has lost a large proportion of its prospective 1944 crops—wheat, 30 percent—barley, 40 percent—sugar beets, 50 percent—potatoes, 25 percent—oil seeds, 25 percent—and oats, 10 percent.

DANES BID RELUCTANT FAREWELL When the Germans moved armed forces into Denmark, the Danes received them reluctantly. When the Germans, pressed on several fronts recently, tried to remove these forces, the Danes let them go the same way. One German division is said to have been delayed 16 days, according to the Danish Listening Post. On a freight train departing from Copenhagen, Danish saboteurs forced the crew to stop the train and disconnect four cars belonging to the German Army, before the train was allowed to continue its journey. In other cases the saboteurs bombed and machine-gunned German trains.

PETROLEUM STOCKPILE IS DOWN The stockpile of principal petroleum products for civilian use is now 29 percent lower than it was in October pre-war levels, the Petroleum Administration for War reports. Civilian gasoline stocks are 39 percent less, heating oils and Diesel fuels are 12 percent less and industrial fuels, 32 percent less.

FARMERS BUY SURPLUS WAR GOODS Much of the surplus construction materials used on 400 Government projects that have been sold by the United States Surplus War Property Administration have gone to American farmers through recent auction sales held in collaboration with county farm agents. Shovels, picks, rope and left-over paint were among materials sold.

Eyestrain Picks Its Victims YOUNG!

ONE school child in five, on the average, has defective vision. Four college students in ten are victims of eye troubles. Accustomed for centuries to outdoor living, mankind has never adjusted eyes to lower levels of indoor lighting. Fortunately, science is bringing sunlight indoors. And the science of seeing is teaching us how to use indoor light with least danger of eyestrain. Here are four simple rules for eyesight conservation it will pay every family to follow.

- 1 Do all reading, studying, sewing, or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.
- 2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.
- 3 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes.
- 4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, let's conserve both eyesight and light. Take care of your eyes, but don't waste light.
