(Continued from Page 1) 168th arrived in the British Isles in February and April of 1942. In two and a half years overseas it has fought through 88 days of combat in the Tunisian campaign and has been on the line in Italy almost constantly since landing at Paestum September 21, 1943, 12 days after continental Europe was invaded for the first time.

Known as the "Rainbow" regiment, the 168th was part of the 2nd "Rainbow" division in world war I.

15th AAF in Italy--In recognition of one of the outstanding bombing missions of the war, a distinguished unit citation has been awarded a B-17 flying fortress group of the 15th air force commanded by Col. Paul L. Barton of Ludlow, Vt.

Staff Sergeant Clayton Keller, 21, son of Mrs H. E. Mayes, Route 1, Nyssa, Oregon, is a tall-gunner on a B-17 flying fortress. A former employee of the Consolidated Aircraft Co., San Diego, Cal., he entered the armed forces in November, 1942. He received training at Lincoln, Nebr., and won his gunner's wings at Las Vegas, Nev., before being assigned to overseas service with the 15th AAF in Italy. He has "meritorious achievement in aerial" been awarded the air medal for flight.

Presentation was made in a recent ceremony at the group's Italian base, at which Maj. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding general of the 15th, pinned the coveted blue citation ribbon on the group's colors.

The group was cited for an action July 18 when 26 fortresses of the group participated in a mission against the airdrome and installations at Memmingen, Germany. Adverse weather scattered the formations en route to the target with the result that the fortress group, which was led by Major Louis T. Seith of 3769 40th St., San Diego, Calif., approached the objective alone and without fighter escort. Shortly before reaching the airdrome the bombers were attacked by some 200 German fighter planes. The fighters bored in at the rear of the formation, and in the first sweep destroyed the last box, wiping out one entire squadron.

Pressing their attacks relentlessly, the fighters knocked down seven more fortresses while the remaining bombers fought on to the target and dropped their bombs with devastating effect.

In presenting the citation to the group "for outstanding performance of duty" Gen. Twining praised the combat crews and ground personnel "who make possible these sustained operations" and said, "It is efforts like this that have kept the Hun on the run. We will keep it up until he is finally defeated."

PRIOR APPROVAL FILING TOO LATE

The Malheur county triple A office has received notice from the state committee that county committees shall not accept requests for prior approval of 1944 practices filed after October 1. This instruction would pertain mainly in Malheur county to the request for prior approval for improvements in reorganizations of the farm irrigation system.

The state triple-A committee states that the reasons for this deadline on prior approval is that the applicants have had ample opportunity and time to make the applications for 1944 practices, and also that there is some doubt in their minds as to whether or not practices started this late in the season would be completed by the end of the program year.

Keep Her Standing

Three Terms Were Too Many And Four Are Much Too Much

Continued tenure in office destroys efficiency and breeds corruption and contempt.

This principle is as old as our government. Washington refused a third term and warned against it. Jefferson denounced any person who would seek a third term. It was condemned in the Democratic platform of 1896 and 1912. In 1928, Senator Norris, in a debate on this question, said:

"If a President of the United States were allowed to renominate himself, it would mean the establishment in this country of a monarchy upon the ruins of our present republican form of government."

Oregon's beloved McNary said in 1940: "We must choose in November whether America shall advance again along the path of her historic mission; or retreat still further into the fields of futility."

POWER ALWAYS CORRUPTS

Jefferson said: "The time to guard against corruption and tyranny is before they shall have gotten hold of us."

MILLIONS OF NEEDLESS JOBS HAVE BEEN CREATED AND TRADED FOR VOTES.

The tyranny and corruption Jefferson feared is now in control of this administration.

Hillman, Browder, Hague, Kelly, Flynn and Hannegan are trying to multiply their greed for power into a fourth term.

This column will be conducted by the Malheur County Republican Committee during the present campaign. Watch for week to week discussions of the issues that control the future of the American people.
