In addition, national defense tendencies and activities in the state of Oregon will be discussed and an open forum will be held for the benefit of all officers in attendance.

Special Agent Ralph C. Vogel will speak on "The Law Enforcement Officer's Viewpoint on Evidence". Special Agent Julius H. Rice will handle moulage and plaster paris casts and will demonstrate their effectiveness and relation to good law enforcement work.

As a result, Mr. Larson said "We believe we have a fairly satisfactory labor program worked out". He pointed out that the program has been developed by the farm labor sponsoring association, of which Ira Ute is president.

These officers pointed out that all farmers interested in securing seasonal labor should contact the sponsors and take out memberships because members will receive first consideration in supplying labor.

The war prisoner labor is considered very good. The war prisoners will be worked under guard at all times with the army supplying the guards and camp personnel. Between 50 and 75 American soldiers will be housed at the camp to supervise the labor.

The sponsoring association will be required to erect a wire fence and guard towers around the camp. A farmer receiving such labor will be required to pay the army the regular wage for such work.

Because of the large acreage, the campaign in the Nyssa factory is expected to extend over a period of from 125 to 130 days, the longest in history. In that time the company will process about a million bags of sugar. Almost that much will be made at the Nampa plant, so that 1,700,000 bags of sugar, 100 pounds each, will be produced in the Nyssa-Nampa district. Mr. Larson said he predicts as good a season in 1946.
