COMPLACENCY IS OBSTACLE

One of the greatest obstacles faced by the committees in charge of the seventh war loan drive in this county and throughout the United States is a possible complacency caused by defeat of Germany in Europe.

Americans rise to heights of courage and endurance that can not be excelled when they are facing mountainous tasks and perils, but when the climax is reached they have a tendency to return to their old routine jobs and let the rest of the world go by.

War production in the United States has reached a momentum that will carry it a long way, but the problem of moving troops and materials from Europe to the orient is a tremendous task. For example, it required 10 months after world war I to send 2,000,000 American soldiers home. The problem of moving out 4,900,000 men, any of them a far greater distance, and moving mountains of material will be a much greater program than that which followed the first world war. Much of that has to be accomplished before the allies can turn their full force on the Japs.

There are many other reasons why we must reach a little deeper into our pockets for this war loan drive than the others. The United States will carry the brunt of the attack against the Japs as Russia did in Europe. The government has announced that only two war loan drive, instead of the usual three, will be conducted this year.

The government will need to borrow money on a grand scale during the next few years and the American people, with the greatest bank deposits in history, can afford to loan it.

Victory Food Hints

By Leona Anderson Idaho Power Co.

"Glamorized Meat Roll" Chopped meat and carrots can both take on a new dress when served in a meat roll. We are glamorizing hamburger in every known way possible and this is no exception. We not only perk up the food but we also perk up tired appetites by this welcome change. The points are a worry and also the budget. Stuffed meat roll will take care of both with plenty left to spare.

STUFFED MEAT ROLL

- 1 1/2 pounds chopped beef.
- 2 tablespoons onion, chopped.
- 1/4 cup dry bread crumbs.
- 3 eggs.
- 3 tablespoons shortening, melted.
- 2 1/2 tablespoons milk.
- 3/8 teaspoon sage.
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt.
- Carrot filling: 2 1/2 cups cooked carrots, chopped. 2 tablespoons onion, chopped. 1 tablespoon shortening. 3/4 teaspoon salt.
- Mix meat, onion, crumbs, egg, shortening milk and seasoning.
- Flatten mixture in oblong shape on bread board covered with waxed paper.
- Cover with another sheet of waxed paper.
- Roll 1/4 inch thick.
- Remove top paper.
- Mix carrots, onion, shortening, salt.
- Spread meat with carrot filling.
- Roll like jelly roll.
- Bake in moderate oven (350 degree fahrenheit) for one hour. Yield six servings.

NUTRITIOUS FOOD VALUE STRESSED

War has emphasized the value of nutritious food in the right amounts in raising morale and fighting fatigue among servicemen and civilians, although we are better fed now than civilians in the last war, states Mrs. Irene N. Makinson, chairman of the Malheur county nutrition committee. "Fact is that the nutritive value of our civilian supply was even greater in 1944 than in pre-war years. After lend-lease and the military needs take about one-fourth of our food supply, we still are eating better from a nutritional standpoint than before the war.

"Reason for the improved condition is that farmers have responded so fully to government request to produce foods that would count most in nutritive returns. And more families now have incomes which will allow them to buy the protective foods they need. On top of all this, Americans are becoming more nutrition-conscious—are learning to take advantage of enriched bread and cereals, fortified margarine, and iodized salt that weren't available during the first world war.
