SCOPE OF FARM LENDING BOOSTED

Amendments to the federal farm loan act, recently passed by congress and approved by President Truman, increase the scope of lending through national farm loan associations and provide machinery for expediting procedure in connection with federal land bank loans. Herbert J. Davis, secretary-treasurer of the Payette association, announced.

Operating through national farm loan associations, the bank may now make loans up to 65 per cent of the normal value of a farm, including its improvements. Mr. Davis said. Prior to July 1, bank loans were limited to 50 per cent of the normal value of the land plus 20 per cent of the permanent improvements.

By the same legislation, congress extended the time for making land bank commissioner loans to July 1, 1946 and provided that the land bank may purchase commissioner notes and mortgages whenever the amount owing on them, together with any prior mortgage to the land bank, does not exceed 65 per cent of the normal value of the farm, including improvements. When the bank makes such a purchase, Mr. Davis said, the borrower's rate of interest is reduced by one per cent to the rate at which the bank makes first mortgage loans.

Mr. Davis explained that borrowers can pay part or all of their loan from their own resources, including farm income, at any time without penalty, and under the new legislation the principal portion of the installments on a land bank loan may be deferred to enable a borrower to pay, in whole or in part, any indebtedness secured by a second mortgage or other lien on the farm.
