SALEM Sept. 2-8

Time Was

—Time was, when the iron tub and the tea-kettle were the important items when it came to a bath—and no wonder it was only every Saturday night!

But today, with electrically heated hot water at the turn of the faucet, a bath is a real treat.

It's hard to believe that all the convenience of automatically controlled hot water can be yours for so little. For full information see your local appliance dealer.

THE SOLAR HOUSE

Designed for Living WITH THE Sun

• The talked-about solar house is brought within reach of the average home owner in this new house, which combines the solar principle with approved colonial styling.

• Living with the sun is the solar feature. By ingenious planning the solar house admits the warming rays of the sun in winter and excludes them in summer.

Here's a design that is fresh and new—created for better living. It is typical of the scores of modern and practical designs to be found in the Weyerhaeuser 4-Square Home Building Service. Come in and see full color reproductions of the solar house and the many other charming home designs. See how you can use the Weyerhaeuser 4-Square Home Building Service in your home planning.
