

WE THANK YOU

In some respects the newspaper is in the position of the stage performer, who abides by the showman's tradition that "the show must go on" and the postal employees and aviators, whose motto is "the mails must go through". In case of the newspaper, the news must be printed.

Among other things, the newspaper must be published because of the publication of legal notices and the publisher's obligation to his readers.

In the case of the Gate City Journal, the paper could not have been published last week had it not been for the splendid cooperation of the high school journalism class directed by Spencer Lane, Fermin Scholes of Ontario, Mrs. Kay Cottle, Mrs. D. O. Bybee and other members of the regular newspaper staff, Mrs. Marcella Lowe, Lawrence Graham and Bill Bales. With the publishers out of town because of sickness, these people are to be commended for the outstanding service they rendered to the owners of the publishing company and to the community.

Generally-speaking, the American people are self-centered and indifferent to the desires of others, but when they are really needed in time of trouble they respond with an alacrity that warms the heart of any beneficiary.

We are also thankful for the fine cooperation given by advertisers and news sources, who, of course, make possible the publication of a newspaper at all times. Thanks a million. When trouble strikes kindness counts.

NEW SECURITY ACT AMENDMENT CITED

Immediate beneficiaries of the social security act are the survivors of world war II veterans who died as the result of causes not connected with their military service and before the date on which the amendment became law, Vernon A. Welo, manager of the La Grande office of the social security administration, said today.

The office manager explained that there are two groups of survivors eligible to file benefit claims at once on the accounts of qualified veterans who died between the time of their discharge from world war II service and the effective date of the amendment.

"In the first place, there are the families of deceased veterans who are now receiving monthly social security benefits or have received lump sums," Mr. Welo said.

"These people may file for a re-computation for benefits, and if it is found that they would be entitled to a larger benefit under the amendment than they are now receiving or have received as the result of social security protection built up by the deceased veteran, they will receive the larger benefit.

"The second group is composed of the survivors of veterans who left no survivors insurance in the old-age and survivors insurance program and survivors who have not claimed insurance they would have been eligible to receive. They may file claim for benefits under the amendment, subject to certain qualifications the veteran must have had. Both groups have until midnight February 10, 1947, to come to our office and file applications for monthly benefits, if they are to be sure to receive benefits retroactive to the month in which the veteran died. I strongly suggest that they take care of this matter as soon as possible.

Survivors who are now receiving veterans administration payments cannot qualify for benefits under the social security act amendment, Mr. Welo warned. National service life insurance is not considered as such a payment.

General requirements that a world war II veteran must meet in order for his survivors to qualify for social security benefits under the provisions of the amendment are:

That the veteran was discharged from the armed forces under circumstances other than dishonorable within four years and a day after the as-yet officially unproclaimed end of world war II; that he veteran had at least 90 days of active duty between September 6, 1940, and the end of the war, or was discharged because of disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty, and that the veteran died within three years of the date of his discharge.

FREE DIAGNOSIS OF DEAFNESS

New "Hearing-Lenses"

To Be Demonstrated

At Clinic in Nyssa

E. M. Hollenbeck, expert Acoustician, will be in Nyssa Friday, September 27 to offer free diagnosis to people who are hard of hearing, at the Owyhee Hotel from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Hollenbeck will employ the new Acousticon "speech-hearing test" in diagnosing the various conditions of deafness which confront him. This test, he said, is based upon the latest scientific research in the field of sound, and has been perfected during the war years.

"New Hearing Lenses" Here

"One of the most amazing scientific discoveries made during the war," said Hollenbeck, "resulted in a development called 'hearing Lenses'—actual lenses which may be fitted to the ear just like glasses are fitted to the eyes, to correct the particular type of defective hearing in each individual."

Hollenbeck will offer a free demonstration of these new "lenses" during his clinic. He pointed out that they are now available for practical use, having been developed by America's oldest manufacturer of hearing aids, the Acousticon company. Their most recent use has been perfected in the new Acousticon "Super-Power" Unipac.

It was emphasized that Hollenbeck's demonstration and hearing tests demand absolutely no obligation on the part of people who attend. He also suggested that those unable to come to the Owyhee Hotel may phone him at 114, Nyssa, and that he would provide private appointments at individual homes of as many as possible. Adv.
