Strike—At Whom?

Financial reports make interesting reading to people who know even a little bit about what they mean. To some, they look drab because they are printed mainly in figures; many students never have learned to enjoy studying figures. Just the same, dull old numerals tell the truth in a romantic way to those who love cold facts of struggle and adventure.

Late in May it was my good fortune to have with me an annual report of one of America's largest corporations when I had to spend three hours on a day train. In the back of my mind as I rode along, was a lurking fear that I might reach home a day (maybe a week) late because of labor troubles, just then coiling to strike. My dread threw a bright light on the figures in hand.

Division of Wealth
The company about which I was reading plays an important part in the lives of more than a quarter of a million people: 100,000 employees and 150,000 stockholders. Two out of every five of these people drew wages while three out of five received dividends. The average share owner got less than $500 a year. The average employee took home more than $2,500 a year.

Daily newspapers for days had reported threats of strikes in the plants of the firm I was studying, also on the lines of the railroad I was riding, and in many other industries. Question: If all the employees of all the companies strike for what they want and get it, who will pay the difference? How will they pay it? These questions have answers and they're not secrets.

Enter Apple Conductor
The train stopped for a few minutes under the sheds of a big town station and a railway newsboy came through with fresh afternoon papers. On page one, under Washington date-line, a wire story told how OPA would grant higher prices on automobiles. Nearby was another item about a 10% boost in shoe prices. Then I remembered that bread and milk and meat all had gone up recently.

Whether you ride or walk or only eat, the price gains catch you. Wages are inside the cost of every manufactured thing, and the consumer pays. It is too obvious to deserve proof. Not long ago officialdom was sounding off freely about how wages in Detroit could be boosted without charging higher prices for automobiles but it didn't work out that way. Why?

Strikes Are Weapons
It is because strikes are not tools. The official theory was right: Wages can go up without boosting prices but production has to be increased if it happens, and strikes don't increase production. Sudden wage increases of 18% to 30% have to come from somewhere, but where? A stockholder drawing $500 a year can't offer much of a boon to a $2,500 wage earner.

Strikes can't take something from the owners of a company that the owners don't get. That leaves nobody to pay the higher wages but Mr. Consumer whose family drives the car, wears the shoes and eats the food. A large majority of consumers are themselves workers. In the absence of increased production, a strike is a zoomerang. It hits the consumer who is the worker himself.

FLAME-PROOFING COTTONS IS URGED

The best way to prevent fire losses is to keep a fire from starting, says Miriam J. Black, home demonstration agent of Malheur county.

Homemakers can remove one definite fire hazard from the home by flame-proofing cotton fabrics that may come in contact with fire. Ironing board covers, kitchen curtains, cotton aprons are examples of items that can be easily flame-proofed.

"The simplest method requires 7 ounces of borax, 3 ounces of boric acid and 2 quarts of hot water," Crocker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Patton, Jr., and son called on Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson and their guest Sunday evening.

Mrs. Ellis Walters has been having influenza.
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McDonald entertained at dinner for Mrs. McDonald's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Furth of Boise, Sunday.

Mrs. George Gregg and baby, Annette are spending a few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Martha Klingback, since leaving the Nursing home.

Mrs. Byrd Walters spent the week-end in Boise visiting relatives.

Rev. Robert Hess and Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Chandler and children of Caldwell attended Sunday school Sunday and Rev. Hess delivered the message. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gregg.

The Owyhee community club will meet with Mrs. Hazel Chamberlain on the regular date, Thursday, October 17.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brewer and Mrs. Brewer's sister, Mrs. Leona Pearson, returned Friday from a hunting trip to Seneca, Oregon. They visited Mr. and Mrs. John Westfall and children on their trip.

Stake Boys Chorus Sings
Thirty-five members of the Weiser stake aaronic priesthood chorus sang special numbers at the L. D. S. conference held in Weiser Sunday. They are under the direction of D. L. Anderson of Nyssa.

The Owyhee Community club sponsored a shower Saturday for two new brides in the district, Mrs. Donald Brewer and Mrs. Donald Hite, at the home of Mrs. Lynn Kygar, where they received lovely gifts. Mrs. Kenneth McDonald was a prize winner in the game. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served. A group of friends beside club members were also in attendance.

Mrs. Martha Klingback is recuperating from a car accident. She is at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culbertson have as guests Mrs. Bertha Culbertson, Mr. Culbertson's mother, his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Culbertson and his sister, Mrs. Phyrn Rector, all of Martinez, California. Mr. and Mrs. E. E.
