YOUR EYES WILL TELL YOU SO

A pretty good indication of whether or not your home is well lighted can come from your eyes. It is not only what you actually see, but how your eyes feel after reading or working indoors. Seeing, like physical activity, uses precious energy, and poor seeing conditions place a needless strain on the eyes.

Scientifically designed lamps not only protect you physically, but they beautify the home as well. Your dealer once again has a fine selection of modern floor lamps, table lamps and clever pin-up lamps from which to choose. He'll gladly suggest the proper lamps for your needs.

Remember proper lighting helps protect eyes from needless strain.
