REDDY WHENEVER YOU'RE READY

Reddy Kilowatt's the fellow who keeps the water hot day and night for instantaneous use. No more getting up a half hour earlier to build a fire under the water tank . . . no more waiting till the water's hot for any household task or personal use. A 52-gallon automatic electric water heater provides an ample supply for the average-size family, for all purposes, whenever you're ready.

Thermostatic controls are the secret of safe, instant hot water. These controls help guard health and pocketbook because they bring the water to just the desired temperature and then shut off the electric current.

See the latest model automatic electric water heater at your dealer's. You'll find the comfort and convenience of tap-ready hot water economical, particularly at Idaho Power's low electric rates.

IDAHO POWER
