They also have a drop feed for special attachments. The new sewing machines will be serviced free while they are in the school.

Keith Stoker won the position of president of the Adrian high school student body for 1947-48 in an election held recently. Stoker moved to Adrian six months ago. He had lived in Burley, Idaho almost all his life. He was on the basketball team and received letters in both. George Elfers is the new vice president, Selma Stam, secretary, and Joyce Stoker, treasurer. Ardye Hurst was chosen advertising manager. The yell team is composed of Betty Jean Toomb and Ardye Hurst. Nominations for the positions had been made the previous day. The student council met earlier and chose nominees to which were added several names from the floor.

The freshmen and sophomore girls were initiated into the Girls' Athletic association Thursday.

The girls wore shorts and blouses underneath a gunny-sack, long cotton stockings held up by an elastic band, worn just above the knee. On one foot a man's boot or shoe, the other in stocking foot, a spunky onion necklace, their hair straight and no make-up, carrying shoe polish and a tooth brush. In the evening the girls collected certain articles or were given "spats". The evening ended with a slumber party.

Eighteen seventh and eighth graders were present at the surprise birthday party given for Donald De Haven Saturday evening after the show by his mother, Mrs. George De Haven, in the De Haven home.

Colleen Steelman of Middleton spent the past week visiting her brother, Clyde Steelman, and family.
