MOTHER-DAUGHTER PARTY
Mothers of Girl Scouts of troop No. 4 were entertained Wednesday night, February 4 at the home of Mrs. Vern Farson. The program was under the direction of the assistant leader, Mrs. C. A. Wernick.

The scouts, working on their literature and dramatics badge, presented two original skits. Barbara Mosier was good as the chronically tired grandfather, who is delighted with his mischievous granddaughter, Kay Farson, and decidedly provoked with Avon Peterson as she acted the part of a typical country swain in love with vivacious Joan Narragon, grandfather's daughter. Doris Rigney, representing the clock, didn't improve grandpa's disposition as she made it a point to keep him posted on the late hour.

Another skit was presented by Barbara Duncan, the eccentric uncle, who was nevertheless well-managed by the sweet, kindly aunt, Sylvia Dolan. Betty Weeks was the exasperated over-worked maid who tried to run the household smoothly in spite of the fact that the uncle was allergic to liver and onions and especially allergic to his two capricious nieces, convincingly portrayed by Sue Farson and Sherrell Chadd.

Mrs. W. J. Brown, retiring leader of the troop, was presented with a gift from the scouts. Other mothers present for the meeting were Mrs. Dolan, Mrs. Mosier, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Chadd and Mrs. Rigney. Refreshments of cake, ice cream and kool-aid were served, followed by games for the mothers and daughters.

PARTY HONORS GIRL
Miss Frances Fick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parley Fick, was honored guest at a party given at her home last week in celebration of her 14th birthday. Games were the diversion. Refreshments were served to 15 girls. Frances received many lovely gifts.
