After nine months of struggling to fill the heads of Young America with something besides comic books and radio serials, U. S. schoolteachers are getting the usual summer parole. And if you don't think a teacher needs a rest after riding herd on an average classroom of normal, healthy kids, then you've probably never tried to answer the first ten questions any Junior American can dream up. However, it makes parents appreciate teachers.

Just read about an Angora cat that is mothering six adopted baby rabbits. Sounds like a hare-raising experience. Car trouble on a lonely road at night or when you're in a hurry can also be a hair-raising experience. Let us keep your car in proper condition at HERRIMAN MOTOR CO. Phone 77.
