ENTHUSIASM
FOR OLIVER
TRACTORS STRONG

Keith Moss
Speaks Favorably

Nyssa, Ore., Oct. 20—Keith Moss, formerly a mechanic and garage owner in Nyssa, who has taken to farming, was asked his opinion of his Oliver "60" tractor.

"I bought this 1942 tractor in June 1948," said Mr. Moss, "and I've used it as much as any tractor in the country for two farming seasons. I've never touched the engine for any kind of an overhaul except to replace the magnets with a distributor. You couldn't find a machine that would beat this and I doubt if any could equal this record."

I'm pleased with the pulling power of my "60" and with its economy of operation as far as gas and oil are concerned. What more could I ask for in a tractor?"

The "60" features found so serviceable by Mr. Moss have now been incorporated in the 66, 77 and 88 Oliver Tractor line.
