Strand Declares Period Important

“We often wonder if we are ready to go out into the world on our own. Probably many a senior of classes gone before us has wondered the same thing on the night of graduation. It is a very different world than it was when our parents were young. We are entering a world which faces the gigantic and seemingly impossible task of trying to maintain peace.

“There are some questions I would like to ask and I think each one should be given some serious thought. First, I would ask each senior to consider, ‘Can I get along peaceably with my fellowman?’ Another question that should be given serious thought is ‘Am I willing to work?’ Another thing we should ask ourselves is ‘Can I think?’ The last and most important question is ‘Do I have faith?’

After elaborating on the questions, Miss Trabert said “As the Rev. Maxfield pointed out the other night, the way to keep out of jails, mental institutions and divorce courts is to put God first in our lives. In order to have a happier, more complete life we must have faith in God and our fellowman.”

Donna Cheldelin, the other co-valedictorian, said “Our school life has been, for the most part, a happy one. The knowledge we have gained these past 12 years has not been confined to what we have learned from books and teachers. During these school years, we learned that heartbreak and disappointments come along with success. Tonight marks a turning point for us. Tomorrow we take our place in the world as adults. In the days ahead we will have to meet the challenges of life, weigh issues, make decisions, meet new people, make new friends, establish homes, and as adults assume our responsibilities as citizens.

“The world we face is challenging one, despite the intricacy of modern economic and political systems, and so the class of 1950 might be likened to the pioneers of America who faced the challenging, difficult and troublesome wilderness. They met the challenge. We pioneers of 1950 sincerely hope that we will be able to meet the challenge of our times, avert war and help in the founding of a just and lasting peace among ourselves and all people.”

The program was opened with the prelude, “Golden Glow Overture” and the professional grand march, played by the Nyssa high school band, directed by Lynn Lawrence.

President Arvel L. Child of the Nyssa stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints gave the invocation. Miss Angela Peterson, accompanied by Miss Mary Lou Schenk, played a violin solo, “Sweet Spirit Hear My Prayer” by Hone-Saenger.

Before presenting Dr. Strand, Superintendent Henry H. Hartley said, “I would like to pay my respects to this school board, which is a very excellent one and has the interests of the school and the people of the community at heart. They do not always receive credit for what they do.

“I also want to pay my respects to this class. The members were third graders when I came here. I can assure you they are nice people and I wish them God-speed.”

Mr. Hartley also thanked the faculty and the Parent-Teacher association for their work during the past year.

A vocal selection, “The Challenge of Youth” by Daly-Gibb, was presented by a double mixed quartet, Janice Campbell, Carolee Bingham, Angela Peterson, Gladys Lewis, Deane Hunter, Ned Campbell, Clarence Suiter and Ray Williams, accompanied by Carlene Jones.

Presentation of scholarships was made by Mrs. Margaret Engstrom, senior class advisor, as follows: Donna Trabert, Oregon State college tuition scholarship, P. E. O. Sisterhood scholarship of $125, and A. A. U. W. scholarship of $25; Donna Cheldelin, Willamette university, $200; Phyllis Galloway, College of Idaho, $50; Angela Peterson, Brigham Young university, $40, and Boise Junior college, music scholarship of $75; alternate scholarship to Brigham Young university, Carole Flinders, and surprise scholarship of $100 offered by the Nyssa Lions club to any accredited school of nursing, Gladys Lewis.

The American Legion citizenship awards were given to Gladys Lewis and Ray Williams by Commander Robert E. Talbot, Jr., on behalf of Nyssa post No. 79.

In presenting the class, Principal Dennis W. Patch said “I wish to add my congratulations to those you have already received. I think each student has contributed something to the Nyssa high school and I think that is the finest thing you can pay to anyone. I congratulate the top fourth for their scholarship and also congratulate the other three-quarters for the job they have done.”

C. W. Buchner, chairman of the school board, presented the diplomas. Arvel L. Child gave the benediction and the high school band played the recessional.
