CHAPIN-CROW NUPTIALS

At a candlelight ceremony performed by the Reverend Henry Moore, Miss Beth Chapin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Chapin, was united in marriage to Thomas J. Crow, son of Mrs. W. R. Crow of Pendleton, Oregon.

The vows were taken at 2:30 the afternoon of June 24 in an impressive service at the altar of the Adrian United Presbyterian church, which was decorated with candles, and floral arrangements of delphinium, gladiolus, roses and asters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in white satin. Her high-necked gown fashioned and made by her friend, Mrs. Lloyd Landreth of Madras, Oregon, was designed with a yoke of chantilly lace, long-sleeved edged in lace, tip veil was held in place by a tiara of seedpearls, while in her hands she carried a white Bible topped with red roses surrounding a white gardenia.

As maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Merrick wore a long dress of dotted swiss in light blue, and carried a colonial nosegay of carnations and roses.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. William Hamilton and Marjorie Bowers, were gowned in identical frocks as the maid of honor, with colors of pastel green and yellow respectively, and also carried nosegays.

Donna Mae Parker and her sister, Linda, of Roseburg, Oregon, cousins of the bride, in their long pink dotted-swiss dresses, attended as flower girls.

Albert Taylor of Richland, Oregon, served as best man for the bridegroom. Ushers were Charles Chapin, brother of the bride, and Donald Snyder.

Immediately following the wedding rites, a reception arranged by Mrs. Grover Cooper and Mrs. Henry Moore was held in the basement of the church, with approximately 100 guests present.

Mrs. W. L. Chapin, mother of the bride, received in a pastel floral afternoon frock, wearing a rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. R. Crow was attired in a rose and gray Bemberg with rose corsage.

Gracing the buffet tables were linen and lace cloths, crystal and silver with tall tapers and a beautiful bouquet of delphinium, roses, Esther Reed daisies and baby's breath. The three-tiered pastel-tipped white bridal cake, encircled and on the lower skirt front a scalloped hoop flounced with lace, pointed with seedpearls, flowing into a long train in the back. Her finger with ferns, rosebuds and delphinium, topped with the miniature bride and groom was cut by Mrs. Kenneth Lorensen, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Clifford Wolfe presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Don Parker of Roseburg, cousin of the bride, poured coffee. Serving was done by Mrs. Hudson Robb, Mrs. Pete Wilson and Mrs. Robert Albritton of Elgin. Mrs. Adeline Blvin of Union was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Grover C. Cooper was in charge of the arrangement of the many floral pieces. The long gift table was in the care of Mrs. James Robb and Mrs. Claude Wilson.

For her traveling ensemble, Mrs. Crow chose a blue gabardine suit with white hat and white accessories.

Thomas Crow, a graduate of Hood River high school served 32 months with the U. S. air corps and received his B. S. degree at E. O. C. E. at La Grande this year. He will teach the sixth grade in the Madras school this fall.

Beth, the bride, a graduate of Adrian high school and of E. O. C. E., taught in the Madras schools last year and will teach the second grade in Madras this fall. After touring the country this summer, the couple will be at home in Madras in August.

Out-of-town guests present for the ceremony and reception included Mrs. Nellie Watts, Jack and Caryll Watts, of Madras, Mrs. Robert Albritton of Elgin, Betty Graham of Union, Adeline Blvin of Union, Albert Tabor of Richland, Mrs. W. R. Crow of Pendleton, Mrs. Don Parker, with Donna, Linda, Ronny, Eddy and Wesley Parker of Roseburg, Mrs. Harriet Turner, grandmother of the bride of Long Pine, Nebraska and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith and son, Maitland of Woodlake, Nebraska.

BOOK CLUB MEETS

Mrs. J. P. Duniway entertained the members of the Book club at her Caldwell home Saturday afternoon. The group met for a one o'clock luncheon, followed by the book review by Mrs. Charles Schweizer. Mrs. Schweizer reviewed the book, "The Feast" by Rinehart. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Darlene Talbot and Mrs. Charles Peck of Boise, Mrs. John Bishop of Rupert, Mrs. Jack Duniway and Mrs. Frank Morgan. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alva Watts of Parma July 15.
