

Basket Used To Collect PTA Fund

SUNSET VALLEY, Nov. 30—Women of Sunset valley are watching for the traveling P. T. A. basket that was started this week and will travel rapidly around the valley, in order to raise funds to help meet the P. T. A. budget needs and buy for the children treats. When the basket arrives, it will contain one article of food or clothing, (cake, apron etc.) and also a purse. The housewife receiving the basket keeps the article, places a money contribution in the purse and signs her name to a list, places an article of food or clothing in the basket and takes it to someone in the valley who has not had the basket. By looking at the list of names showing who has had the basket, there will be no confusion or repetition. It is hoped that all will assist in filling the basket and purse and in keeping it moving rapidly.

Miss Shirley Forey of Homedale, Idaho and Albert McGinnis, son of Don McGinnis, were united in marriage Sunday, November 19 in Winnemucca, Nevada. The newlyweds are making their home in Sunset valley in the Ira Price tenant house.

Most of the farmers in the valley had completed their harvesting last week, and all took time out for the traditional Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart (Bud) Schweizer and son of Reno, Nevada arrived in Nyssa Friday to attend the funeral of Margaret Bradney, Bud's maternal-grandmother, Sunday. While here the couple were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Oldham, mother of Mrs. Schweizer. Mr. and Mrs. James Chadd and two children dined in Ontario at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Steiner.

Newly elected officers of the Chalk Butte Grange for the coming year are Don Bergam, master; Mrs. Grover Cooper, lecturer; Elza Niccum, overseer; M. A. Rataeyk, gatekeeper; Raymond Bergam, steward; Jo Ann Price and Lorelle Bergam, assistant steward and stewarress; Mrs. Elza Niccum, secretary; Ira Price, treasurer; Mrs. E. B. Smith, chaplain and Mrs. Ira Price, home economics club chairman. The three graces are Adeline Talbot, Fern Price and Hattie Ruffington. Crop insurance was the farm topic of discussion at the Tuesday evening meeting. A pot-luck lunch was served at the end of the evening's business.

Mr. and Mrs. James Langley were hosts at a turkey dinner in their home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hester and family of Boise and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hobson. Mr. Hobson, who had just arrived home Sunday from a stay in the Nampa hospital for bladder treatment was on a limited diet.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mitchell entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell, Corky Chard, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Mitchell and Jerry. Visitors at the Wilbur Chapin home Monday included Mrs. Adah Snyder, Miss Mertrude King and Mrs. Dwight Plain and children of Ontario. Miss King remained for an extended visit at the Chapin home. Miss Marjorie Bowers was an additional guest for the Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Val Mitchell spent the Thursday holiday in Payette with Mrs. Mitchell's parents. Returning with them was Miss Gail Hendricks, who spent the week-end with her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Robb were hosts Thursday at dinner to four families, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wilson and sons, Mr. and Mrs. James Robb, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hamilton and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Robb and son.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Okano left last Tuesday for Portland for a visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Tai Funatake, who has a new son, born November 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Price drove to Elgin Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Albritton.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reed entertained Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilson and children and Buck Reed at a turkey dinner in their home Thursday.

Miss Clarice Notheis, Mrs. Gordon Judd and Mrs. Charles Schweizer were dinner guests of Mrs. Dennis Patch Tuesday evening and attended the concert in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Olson and family of Bend, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Collins of New Plymouth guests at the Clifford Wolfe home Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. Olson and Mrs. Castle were also overnight guests, leaving Friday to visit in Payette.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Olson of Buhl were dinner guests and overnight visitors at the Lyman Pomerooy home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowns, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sken and Mrs. Ann Mae Wadland at the Ersel Beus home Thursday.

Dinner guests at the Ken Loresen home Thursday included Frank and Jesse Asumendi, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Field and Herman Loresen. Jesse Asumendi was home for the Thanksgiving vacation, returning to college again the first of the week at Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Simpson and son, Jack, formerly of Hooper, Utah, arrived in the valley Thursday to make their home. They recently purchased the Henry Hintz farm, and moved into the house Thursday. Mrs. Simpson is a sister of George Folkman. The Henry Hintz family are living in the former house of Oscar Malmberg, now owned by Don Strickland.

Loren Stone, his father Carl, and his brother-in-law, Leonard Strush, arrived Tuesday from Utah. Loren Stone is purchasing the Rob Thompson farm.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Rob Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Bergam left on a trip to Moscow, Idaho, considering the possibility of making their homes in that region. Mrs. Bessie Eldum and Darvis, Judy, Paula and Dean Bergam are houseguests at the Herbert Bergam home while the others are in Idaho.

Mrs. C. J. Rataeyk and her new son, Casmier Frank, returned from the hospital Tuesday before Thanksgiving. The boy was born Friday evening, November 17.

Earl Says—

Don't know why "women drivers" get talked about so much, for some of my best customers are ladies—and they're real nice. Good drivers, too. I kind of take a personal interest in them at my station at BERRETT'S.
