Boy Is Placed In Portland Hospital

SUNSET VALLEY, Dec. 23—Reverend and Mrs. R. L. Kiner returned Thursday from a 10-day trip to Portland, where they placed their three-year-old son in a hospital. The child will be operated on in January. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Kiner home from Madras were Mrs. Jesse Gregg and children, who were spending the holidays with Mrs. Gregg's mother. Jesse Gregg who was expected to arrive from Madras in time for Christmas, was trucking Cliff Main's new Willys station wagon that had been wrecked this month at the Mill Creek bridge on Warm Springs cut-off near Madras. The Cliff Main family car had skidded into the bridge railing, as the highway was dry except at the bridge where the air current had frozen water on the bridge. Neither Mr. or Mrs. Main or their son or daughter was hurt. There were six crashes that one day at this bridge, and out of the six, three of the cars had to be towed away by a wrecker.

Mrs. Jesse Gregg and children were guests Friday visiting at the home of Mrs. Anna Gregg. Saturday Mrs. Anna Gregg, Herschel Gregg and children and Sally, Alan and David left for Wapato, Washington to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lappiere, the children's grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nishitani and David spent Christmas with the Roy Hashitani family in Ontario.

Over eighty friends and neighbors gathered at the Sunset hall Wednesday evening at a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Rob Thompson, Mrs. Bessie Eldum, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bergam and family. The Durfee brothers, Henry and Irvin, furnished musical numbers. Electric clocks were presented to the two families, and a pin to Mrs. Eldum. After much visiting and dancing, a supper was served in the hall, which had been made festive with a lighted Christmas tree and many Yuletide bells.

These families came to Sunset valley from Forest Grove over 13 years ago, clearing sagebrush and making their homes. They have been active in all community affairs. The men, Edwin and Robb left Thursday for Moscow, Idaho in trucks. The women and children left Friday.

The Christmas party of the Worthwhile club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Schweizer, with Mrs. Thomas Nishitani and Mrs. Charles Schweizer as co-hostesses. The Schweizer home was attractively decorated with many varying Yuletide arrangements. A reading of "The Little Angel" was given by Mrs. Nishitani, and "Twas the Night Before Christmas" by Mrs. George Schweizer. The annual Christmas exchange of gifts followed and refreshments of salad, fruit cake and coffee were served. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Langley, with Mrs. Pete Wilson assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Babcock entertained Saturday evening at a pinocle party in their home. Guests included the Clarence Reeds, Elver Nielsen, Clifford Wolfes, Jim Robbs and Wayne Robbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robb were Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reed.

Mrs. Elver Nielsen celebrated her birthday with a dinner party Tuesday evening in her home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Chard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Doane Price of Ontario and

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conley and two children of Battle Creek, Michigan. Mrs. Conley, a sister of Mrs. Elver Nielsen, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Chard, arrived a week ago with her family for a visit at the parental home over the holidays. On Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Chard entertained all four families.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Robb of Nyssa were hosts to the Jim Robb, Bill Hamilton and Wayne Robb families at a Yuletide party and gift exchange Sunday evening.

The Earl Strickland home was the scene of the family gathering and gift exchange Sunday evening for the three Strickland families of

Members of the Owyhee L. D. S. ward attended the annual Christmas program Saturday evening at the Oregon Trail schoolhouse. Units of the primary classes gave the program and Santa was present with treats.

For Christmas, the parental home of F. G. Holmes was the gathering place for over 30 members of the family for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holmes were hosts at a Christmas eve party in their home with Mr. and Mrs. Jun-
