

Highway Plans Main Subject At Chamber Meeting

Road To Jordan Valley Along Sucker Creek To Be Sought

Ormond Thomas, a member of the Nyssa chamber of commerce roads committee, told chamber members at their weekly luncheon Wednesday noon that the proposed Sucker creek road between Adrian and Jordan Valley should be the next highway project to receive the active support of the local group.

Thomas explained that the county court has set up funds to send County Judge Sewell Stanton to Portland occasionally to attend highway commission meetings with a view of "trying to get some farm-to-market roads". The speaker said that Stanton will ask the commission to build a road up Sucker creek to connect the Jordan Valley and Sheaville areas to northern Malheur county. To go north or south now, a motorist must go into Idaho if he desires to travel on a modern highway.

Irrigation water standing on the new highway between Nyssa and Ontario also received the attention of the chamber of commerce.

Thomas said "The water on the highway is going to cost us money. The practice has been going on for several years. It is a difficult problem, but something must be done. Highway officials know about the water and have investigated the situation."

President Thomas Jones appointed Clyde Snider and Ted Morgan as members of a committee to conduct further moves against the practice of allowing irrigation water to flood the highway.

Bernard Frost said Judge Stanton has shown concern over the road to the Owyhee dam and to Leslie gulch. He indicated the county and road district will improve the road to the dam and send a bulldozer to Leslie gulch for use on the road there for a day or two. As Leslie gulch attracts more tourists, the road will need to be improved. Frost said tourists will not encourage others to go there because of the condition of the road.

Gene Stunz reported on a highway 20 association meeting that he and Elmer Crusan attended in Burns Monday night. A new road is under construction from Tumelo to Bend and a section from Newport to Toledo will be rebuilt. Stunz said association officers will seek the support of the legislature in the project of improving and promoting highway 20, which is not considered as a military highway. Highway 20 association was organized several years ago by residents of the Willamette valley and coastal areas.

Crusan said the association plans erecting a series of small signs along the highway through southern Idaho.

Gene Grasty discussed the highway 20 meeting to be held in Vale Monday night and also signs to be erected along the highway.

The automobile was quite badly damaged when it struck the ditch.

A surprise pitcher led the Nyssa American Legion junior baseball team to a 5 to 2 victory over the Ontario juniors on the Ontario field Tuesday night.

Pitching for the first time in junior baseball, Bunky Frost fanned the first four players to face him with the bat, walked the next batter and struck out the fifth. Frost, who has pitched in "knothole" ball, was replacing Marcum, who has taken a summer job with the forest service.

The Nyssa juniors lost to Burns 7 to 6 on the local field Sunday. They led all the way until the seventh inning, when they lost the contest on errors. With the score standing at 5 to 2 in the seventh frame, Burns scored five runs, including only one earned run.

Restrictions On Enlisting Raised

Temporary lifting of the restrictions concerning enlistment by selective service registrants has been authorized by the national headquarters of the system, according to an announcement issued by the Malheur county board.

During the month of June 15 to July 15, registrants will be permitted to enlist in the armed services up to the time they receive an order to report for induction.

Heretofore, enlisting has been barred after receipt of the order for a physical examination. This new order means that men now in class 1-A and those awaiting their call may skip induction if they choose to enlist before July 15.

A spokesman for the recruiting services said today: "As long as the person has only received his examination and other pre-induction processing but not his orders for induction, he can now join the U. Phillips found Mrs. Russell Williams unconscious and Mrs. Jack Williams holding her head above the water by gripping her hair from across the boat. The others were suffering from shock.

Sportsmen Make Suggestions For Hunting Seasons

Game League Meets In Ontario; State Fieldmen Attend

Recommendations for the hunting season in the fall were drafted at a meeting of the Malheur Game League in the city hall in Ontario Tuesday night and will be submitted to the state game commission for consideration.

The sportsmen voted in favor of a bag limit of four Chinese pheasant roosters a day, eight in possession and 12 for the season, which they suggested would run from October 13 to 28, inclusive. The men asked for three Hungarian partridges a day and six for the season, which would run concurrently with the pheasant season.

The league suggested an open season on mountain quail during the deer season and a bag limit of 10 a day or in possession.

Ace Gunderson, president of the league, reported that sportsmen attending a tri-county meeting in La Grande recommended the deer season be open from September 29 to October 25, the elk season from November 3 to 28 and the antelope season from August 4 to 12.

At a previous meeting of the Malheur Game League, the members suggested the sagehen season run concurrently with the antelope season with a bag limit of four a day or eight for the season.

The sportsmen voted in favor of a straight season on ducks and recommended that an applicant for a special license must send in his license number with his application.

Bill Lightfoot of the game department said the organization is thinking of dividing the antelope territory into three sections and issuing special licenses for each section because of the concentration of animals in certain areas. The sections would be roughly Malheur, Harney and Lake counties.

Lightfoot and other fieldmen indicated they would like to have the sagehen season during the antelope season. They would also like to have the elk season open the same as last year. The department is in favor of a reduction in the deer population.
