Peace and Prosperity

For three years most of the American people have longed for some signs of peace in Korea and the end of hostilities without loss of honor. During the past few days, peace hopes have been strengthened with favorable reports from our own government, but there are a few sour notes being sounded from that section where the dollars and cents economy might be adversely affected when the Korean war ends.

There is a very small minority of people who would dislike peace for political and economic reasons. An overwhelming majority of Americans are sick of the mounting list of battle casualties and war dead, whether they be American boys or those from allied and enemy nations. No one can properly express the sympathy due those whose homes have been left empty because of the Korean war.

Strange as it may seem, headlines in the daily newspapers, quoting politicians who are concerned about a declining stock market and lower prices, do not agree with the sentiment expressed here at home.

In an area like this, farmers, wage earners and business men are in almost unanimous agreement that high incomes can go to blazes if an honorable peace can be brought about in Korea. They look beyond the financial profits and to that time when prosperity will not be built on war, but by and for the people who make up the nation

Dr. Martin to Take Methodist Pulpit

The Rev. and Mrs. H. G. McCallister left Tuesday morning for a 10-day vacation trip to Santa Ana, Calif. where they will visit with their daughter, Mrs. Martin Payne and family.

During the Rev. McCallister's absence, Dr. James Martin, member of the Idaho Methodist conference and head of the philosophy department at the College of Idaho, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday.

The choir, directed by Mrs. Dwight Wyckoff, will sing "God Will Take Care of You."

The last quarterly conference of the church year has been set for Friday, April 17, and will be conducted by the Rev. C. G. Hannan, Boise, superintendent of the western district.

For those intending to teach in the western vacation church school, a vacation church workshop has been announced for next Tuesday in the Nampa Methodist church.

MISSIONARY CHAPTER MEETS
The Golden Hour missionary chapter of the church of the Nazarene held its annual election of officers April 2 at the home of Mrs. Mable LaCelle.

Officers were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Janice Wilson; vice president, Mrs. Helen Howard; secretary, Mrs. Clara Saunders; treasurer, Mrs. Gloria Edwards; superintendent of publicity, Mrs. Marie Crater; membership chairman, Mrs. Gladys Roberts; and in charge of packing missionary boxes, Mrs. Irene Huber.

An interesting letter was read from a missionary in Hong Kong. Mrs. Robert Jackson was in charge of devotions.
Refreshments were served.

Along The EDITOR'S BEET

Sometimes we long for the "good old days" like everyone else, and the incidents that are the most pronounced in our memory are those of general small-town horseplay and the manner in which it was staged and accepted.

Prior to World War II, the average town had its practical jokers and its fun-makers, who diverted the attention of the rest of the town from the humdrum of making a living. These jokesters were never malicious and they were natural-born diplomats in knowing just how far they could go and who could accept their pranks in the manner they were intended.

Along came unrest in Europe with the average American hoping, but few of them sincerely believing, that international entanglements could be avoided. As the tension increased, each person became more serious and somewhat withdrawn into himself. After Pearl Harbor, Americans united as one to fight an enemy from without, but their thoughts were serious and their moods were of apprehension.

The end of hostilities failed to bring the peace of mind all Americans had dreamed about, since they knew full well that a readjustment period would be long and difficult. They were not mistaken. The nation was plunged into an inflationary period, then came the Korean situation, more inflation and an uncertainty that multiplied the worry lines on the troubled faces of the American people.

Adrian merchants recently pulled a gag on Nyssa with a half page ad in the Journal welcoming anyone to visit Adrian where they made it clear that loitering would not only be tolerated, it would be encouraged and the visitors would be joined by the Adrianites themselves.

Adrian got itself talked about—and favorably, too—chuckles and guffaws coming right from Nyssa where it was generally conceded that one of the cleverest advertising promotions ever instigated had definitely focused attention on a community 12 miles south of Nyssa.

Taking Adrian's "jibe" in the spirit in which it was intended, a caravan of Nyssans descended on Adrian two days later to accept the invitation to loiter and hobnob with everyone else taking it easy on the town's Main street.

The results were remarkable. Without doubt, many individuals from the two towns became better acquainted with one another. They all took time for some nonsense and forgot for a few minutes that a certain gross business would have to be done that day to take care of the creditors who have a habit of sending threatening letters the first of every month. If we are honest, we'll admit there is no return to the "good old days," for few, if any of us would want to turn backward. However, there will be a time when there will be more relaxation, more nonsense, and in turn, more fellowship among all people.

A start has been made and it should be carried on.
