Auxiliary of Hospital Pays For Equipment

Full payment was tendered Sept. 22 by the Malheur Memorial hospital auxiliary to the Intermountain Surgical Supply Co. of Boise for an oxygen-air pressure lock installed at the hospital the first week in August by the auxiliary.

The piece of equipment, the most modern of its kind, has already proved its worth at the hospital, according to Peter Fleissner, physio-therapist.

In the six weeks since its installation the air pressure lock has been put to use a number of times, according to Fleissner, with excellent results. In one instance, he said, the incubator-respirator (for that is what it actually is) was used for a period of several days to supply oxygen to a pre-mature baby that was suffering from respiratory difficulties.

In the main, however, the apparatus is called into use for only a few minutes at a time to restore breathing of new-born babies to normal.

The pressure lock works under the principle of keeping temperature and humidity constant. It has an even, unlimited supply of oxygen, furnished by a pressure tank.

Malheur Memorial hospital is one of the few institutions of its kind in this area having an oxygen-air pressure lock. There is but one in Boise and one in Nampa, believed to be the only other two in the entire lower Snake River Valley.

Scout District Meeting Planned For Tonight

The first fall Scout district committee meeting will be held tonight at 7 p. m. at the Moore hotel in Ontario, according to Don Benson, district chairman.

There are more than 500 boys registered in scouting in the Malheur district. Leadership personnel consists of the district chairman; Wayne Chesnut, Nyssa, vice chairman; Dusty Rhodes, Ontario, advancement chairman; Robert Lee, Vale, camping and activities; Nephie Grigg, Ontario, finance; Walter McPartland, Nyssa, leadership training; Preston Mortimer, Ontario, organization and extension; Leon Davenport, Ontario, health and safety; and Ross Butler, Vale, district commissioner.

These men with all institutional representatives from all sponsoring units in the district, make up the district governing committee. The committee hopes to organize some new units this fall and winter in the district.

Named Executive Secretary of TB, Health Assoc.

Walter McPartland, president of the Malheur Tuberculosis and Health association, announced last week that Mrs. George W. Johnson of Vale has been named the new executive secretary of the county association.

Mrs. Johnson is now making plans to cover the entire county to show films to different organizations. At the same time, arrangements will be made for the 1953 sale of Christmas seals, of which Mrs. Johnson also has charge.

The T. B. and Health association is the first organization to use stamps as a means of raising funds.

Other officers of the county organization are William Blackaby, Ontario, treasurer, and Mrs. Rolland Laurence, Nyssa, secretary. Mrs. Edna Farris, county health officer, and Dr. L. A. Maulding are ex-officio members and part of the executive board.

Girl Receives Cuts When Glass Broken

Neville Heights—Nine stitches were required as treatment of a deep cut received last Wednesday by Betty Hammon, a sophomore at Adrian high school.

A glass of water she was carrying was accidentally broken in a door as she was hurrying to a class was given as the cause of the accident.

Harvest Festival Planned by C. of C.; Committeemen Named for Affair

First public announcement of a long-planned fall harvest festival program was made this week, with the naming of committee heads by Dick Yost, general chairman.

Committee head choices were first named last Friday before the Nyssa Business Men's association and officially Wednesday noon at the weekly meeting of the Nyssa Chamber of Commerce.

A meeting of these committee heads, nine in all, was also held last Saturday noon for the purpose of clarifying duties of the various committees.

Under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce, the Harvest Festival is scheduled for late in October. It is in answer to a long-felt need for a public celebration in Nyssa to bring townspeople and country people together in a time of festive gaiety.

The "harvest" theme was decided upon as being the one round which Nyssa's merchants and business

Committee Approves Proposal For Bond Issue to Construct Cafeteria, Music Room, Shop; Election Soon

Eligible voters living within district 26C will have an opportunity to vote sometime this fall at a school bond election to construct a cafeteria, music room and shop for the Nyssa school, it was decided Monday night by a special committee appointed by the school board.

Estimated cost of the project is $100,000, but a definite figure cannot be announced until after a special school board meeting Wednesday night of next week, J. L. Herrimen, chairman of the board, said that Graham B. Smith, architect, will meet with the board to go over blue prints prepared when the new addition to the school was built. The plan calls for a large cafeteria room, complete with "jackknife" tables and seats that can be folded against the wall, kitchen facilities, walk-in refrigerator and other facilities to serve meals.

West of the cafeteria room, the plans call for a music room and on the east the shop would be built. The entire structure would be connected with the main high school building with a connecting hall back of the gymnasium stage.

Area Meeting For Episcopal Women

An area meeting for Episcopal women from Vale, Nyssa and Ontario will be held at the Vale Episcopal church Friday, Sept. 24, according to Mrs. Bernard Eastman. The session will begin at 9 a. m. with holy communion and end with a noon luncheon. Mrs. Dan Denning, of Bord, district president, will be guest speaker. Also on the program will be other directors, officers and chairmen. Mrs. Eastman urged all Nyssa guild women to attend this important meeting.

Adrian PTA Meets, Holds Reception

Adrian—First meeting of the Adrian grade Parent-Teacher association was held last Thursday in the grade school, with Orville Gilbert, president-elect, presiding over the brief business session, program and teacher reception.

Chief item of business was the discussion and acceptance of the annual budget.

Hugh Tobler, Nyssa tenor, sang a group of four numbers and Dudley Kurtz of Newell Heights played two piano solos.

The staff of grade teachers was introduced by Harold Newman, principal. Each teacher was presented a corsage from the PTA.

The balance of the evening was spent in visiting over ice cream, cookies and punch.

Other officers of the PTA are Mrs. Varner Hopkins, secretary, and Charles Witty, treasurer.

Vocational Ag Boys at Adrian Awarded Prizes

Five Adrian high school vocational agriculture students are among 164 farm boys in 37 states to win national awards for their ingenuity in using mechanical skills and their ability to talk about it.

Louis Stain, Nyssa, route 1, and Wayne Roberts and Johnny Witty, Parma, route 3, all students at Adrian, collaborated to prepare a paper on "Post hole digger that will bore a plumb hole on level or uneven ground." They were awarded a sixth prize in the amount of $25 to be used for the improvement of shop courses.

Jerry Honey and Eugene Loy, Nyssa route 1 and 2, respectively, and both Adrian students, won a $25 prize for their paper, "Land Leveler," and that award is for shop course improvement.

The contest is sponsored by the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio, which provided a total of $5000 in prizes.

Edw. L. Jamison Dies; Burial Set For 2:30 Today

Edward Logan Jamison, 61, one of Nyssa's most colorful personalities, died at 8:30 p. m. Monday at Boise veteran's hospital, following an extended illness.

He had lived in a period of declining health since the death of his wife, Mary A. Jamison, last Oct. 27. He succumbed to a heart ailment, which had confined him to hospital in Spokane, Wash., Hot Springs, S. D., and Boise since the first of June.

Mr. Jamison was born at Belmont, Ia., Oct. 10, 1891, and received his education there. In 1901 he came west to the Boise Valley with his parents, settling on a farm in the Gem area.

He saw Mexican Border duty with the army, with which he served at various U. S. camps during World War I. In September 1922, he was married to Mary A. Haley, four years after a courtship that started with meeting her on a train while he was in the U. S. army uniform returning home from army service.

First home of the couple was established in Boise, but after spending the winter there the Jamisons moved to Washington. Following a residence at Milton-Freewater they moved to Nyssa in 1936 to homestead a 120-acre sagebrush tract under the newly-opened Owyhee project.

Oregon's Governor Guest of Nyssa Monday On First Visit To Eastern Oregon; Idaho's Senior Senator Speaker For Associated Chamber Commerce on Tuesday

Nyssa Host To Area Chambers At High School

Henry Dworshak, Idaho's United States senior senator, will be guest speaker Tuesday night at an Associated Chamber banquet to be held at the Nyssa high school gymnasium. Beginning at 8 o'clock, the dinner will be served by the Nyssa second ward LDS women and dinner music will be furnished by a clarinet trio composed of Charles Steffens, Harland Heis of Ontario and Ralph Castaver of Parma.

Bernard Frost of Payette, president of the Associated Chambers, said that a large representation is expected from all members in towns from Boise to Weiser in Idaho and from Malheur county's three towns.

The speaker will be introduced by Jed Lewis, who made arrangements for his appearance here.

Sen. Dworshak is a member of the senate committees on government operations, public works, appropriations and for interior and insular affairs.

The Idaho senator served as a representative in the Idaho legislature during the time he owned and published the Burley Bulletin, a weekly newspaper and had an interest in an Idaho Falls daily. He was elected to the U. S. senate in the early 40's and is now serving in that capacity.

Snider to Preside At Youth Conference

Ned Snider, president of the Idaho Conference of Methodist Youth, will head a delegation of seven Nyssa Methodist youth people going to Twin Falls, Ida., for a three-day conference this weekend.

The conference, which begins Friday, has been called for the purpose of discussing youth problems pertaining to their church affiliations.

In attendance will be 200 young people from the area extending from LaGrande to Pocatello, Ida.

Accompanying Snider will be Ruth Herrman, Ronald Buchner, Clea Belle Wernick, Eugene Sutchkov, Letha Sager and Phyllis Fox.

1st Day Autumn Sees No Change In Weather Here

Autumn came to Nyssa rather inauspiciously a few minutes after 1 a. m. Wednesday with the minimum temperature for the first day of fall unchanged from that of the last day of summer.

Actually, the definite break in the extreme high Indian Summer temperatures came last Thursday, when there was a drop from 91 degrees on Wednesday, Sept. 16, to 75 degrees maximum. Since that date thermometer recordings have never been higher than 84 degrees.

Coldest night was Monday, when the mercury dipped to 40 degrees from 51 the night before.

Bandmen Acclaim John Day Hospitality

Nyssa's Municipal band was treated royally by Grant county fair officials when it went to John Day to play an hour-long concert at the fair last Thursday night, according to reports of the returned bandmen and women.

The 30-piece band made the trip to John Day in a private bus, returning the same night and arriving home at 2:30 a. m.

One and all acclaimed the unexpected hospitality of the people in this neighboring county.

Wyckoff Attends OEA Executive Meet at Portland

As regional director, Dwight Wyckoff attended the one-day session of the executive committee of the Oregon Education association at Portland. He was accompanied by his wife, June-Marie.

The region Wyckoff represented at the meeting comprises Malheur, Grant and Baker counties, there being 10 regions making up the membership of the OEA in the state.

Ewald Turner of Pendleton is president and presided over the sessions of the meeting.

Wyckoff was appointed public relations chairman for the fall conference of department classroom teachers, to be held in the Malheur hotel and Lincoln high school of Portland Oct. 30-31.

The executive committee voted to have all presidents of local education associations attend the fall conference at the expense of the OEA.

President of the Nyssa Education association is Frank Parr.

FFA Will Host District Meet

Nyssa chapter, Future Farmers of America, will be host next Monday to the Snake River Valley District FFA Leadership meeting, it was announced Tuesday by Dwight Wyckoff, advisor.

The local chapter, of which Gary Jones is president, will open and close the one-day session, with the Nyssa FFA chapter girls serving the noon luncheon.

Presiding will be Andy Kendall of Vale, state FFA reporter and district vice president.

An attendance is expected of 36 officers and advisors from Vale, Adrian, Ontario, Baker and Halfway. The Nyssa chapter will be represented by seven.

Beet Harvest, Sugar Factory Work Will Start Oct. 5; Million Dollar Plant Payroll Here During Season

Harvesting of the 1953 sugar beet crop will start on a controlled basis in the Nyssa factory district on Oct. 5, and the factory will start slicing the following day, it was announced this week by Jed Lewis, general manager of the Amalgamated Sugar Co. at Nyssa and Nampa.

In the Nampa factory district, harvesting will start a week earlier—Sept. 28-- and the Nampa factory will start slicing Oct. 5.

Lewis said the estimated tonnage to be harvested in both districts is approximately 950,000 tons, which is 30 percent greater than the crop produced in 1952. To slice this year's tonnage, factories will operate until the middle of February.

Approximately 400 men will be employed at the factory and receiving stations in the Nyssa district and about 325 men at the Nampa factory and receiving stations. Yearly payrolls at each factory are approximately $1,000,000.

All beet growers were notified this week that the amount of beets harvested each day will be limited to the daily slicing capacity of the factories until temperatures are low enough to permit stock piling. In recent years it has been possible to pile beets about Oct. 12 to Oct. 15.

During the controlled harvest period station allotments will be made by the company and individual allotments will be given to growers by their field men.

Growers have been sent self-addressed cards which they should return to indicate whether they wish to start harvest Oct. 5 or wait until temperatures are cool enough for beets to go into storage. The cards must be returned not later than Sept. 29.

Cruson Gashes Leg With Power Saw

Elmer Cruson, local manager of the Armo Drainage Products Co., was treated late Monday at Dr. K. E. Kerby's office for a deep gash in his leg.

The wound was inflicted with a skill saw which Cruson was using while at work in his home garage.

In laying the saw down after turning off the switch it came in contact with his leg, severely cutting it between the hip and knee.

He was resting easily at home Wednesday, according to reports.

T/SGT. ROBERT JONES VISITS IN NYSSA

Chamber Makes "Tight" Schedule For Brief Visit

Plans for Nyssa's part in Governor's Day in Malheur county next Monday have been worked out in detail with Gov. and Mrs. Paul Patterson's appearance on Main street, a short tour of the farming area and a public reception at the Amalgamated Sugar Co. lawn on the itinerary. Chairman Paul Penrod announced Tuesday.

Gov. and Mrs. Patterson will arrive in Vale sometime Sunday evening and will be met by a reception committee that will escort them back to Nyssa where they will spend the night. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jed Lewis and the sugar company at the company's club house.

A breakfast is being planned for 7:30 Monday morning and the public is invited, but Penrod warned that those wishing to attend the breakfast should make reservations by Saturday of this week, either with him or with Chamber of Commerce Secretary Tom Jones.

At 8:30 the Chamber will sponsor a tour of the Nyssa farming area with Jake Fischer, president of the chamber, in charge to acquaint Gov. Patterson with this area's agricultural production.

The tour will be concluded at 5:45 at the "Y" on West Main street where a parade will be formed. Gov. and Mrs. Patterson will be conducted east on Main with Dr. J. J. Sarazin, Malheur county's and Nyssa's pioneer physician, and Mayor Tom Jones and Chamber President Fischer accompanying him to the sugar factory lawn. The caravan will stop briefly at Main and First where the Municipal band will greet the honored guests. At the sugar factory lawn, the governor will be introduced by Dr. Sarazin and everyone in the community will be given an opportunity to meet the honored guest. One hour—from 10 until 11-- has

State Eagles Prexy Guest of Nyssa Lodge

Richard Chapman, president, Oregon State aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was a guest of the Nyssa aerie Wednesday night, Sept. 16, at which he gave a report of important action taken by Eagles at the national convention in August.

The state president commented chiefly on the change in national office policy, which puts administrative power of the lodge principally in the hands of state officers.

Prior to Chapman's report, two new members were inducted, Chester Bowns and Harley Smith.

The showing of colored slides of the National Boy Scouts Jamboree by Harold (Dusty) Rhodes and a buffet lunch completed the session.

Infant Stephen Has Grandparents Galore

Infant Cathy Lyn Stephen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stephen, Jr., who are visiting in Nyssa with their respective parents, has more grandparents than one can shake the proverbial stick at.

Her Nyssa grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Stephen, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Day. Then come Great-grandfather Henry L. Day of Adrian and Great-grandfather and Grandmother James Stephen of Nyssa.

Residing in Nebraska are Great-grandfather Joehneck and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bruhn.

The younger Stephen is spending a 30-day leave of absence here from Norton Field air base, near San Bernardino, Calif., where he has been stationed during the past 15 months. He is a mechanic in the U. S. air force. His wife and small daughter are making their home with him there.
