"VENDRELL DAY" CLIMAXED DURING FIREMEN'S BALL (Continued from page 1) Thursday night, all proceeds from the high school one-act plays will go into the fund. Students from the school made door-to-door solicitations Tuesday for cash contributions, and collected $284, ten percent of approximately $700 raised at the Catholic bazaar last Saturday. Vale's student body has contributed $1000, Boy Scout troop No. and individuals were exploiting every legitimate means of raising money for the injured athlete. High School Principal Wilson said Tuesday that all action on the part of Nyssa and Vale students was strictly voluntary, with school organization leaders proposing the contributions with no suggestions from faculty members or other adults.

It was learned last week that compulsory accident insurance, which all students taking physical education are required to buy, pays a maximum of $300 in the event of injuries. According to Chesnut, at least $5000 will be required to pay for part of the expenses now being incurred for the youth's treatment and for rehabilitation. SYLVIA JAYO IS CHOSEN QUEEN OF HARVEST FESTIVAL (Continued from page 1) band concert and harvest ball in the new high school gymnasium in the evening with an intermission floor show. Wayne Chesnut and Eddie Taylor, co-chairmen of the free barbecue, have reported the engagement of Andy Peterson of Vale to prepare and supervise the serving of the barbecue. Plans call for the barbecuing of three beef to feed an estimated five to six thousand guests of the city on Nov. 7. Chairmen of other committees working out details of the day-long Harvest Festival are Wilton Jackson, harvest ball; Elmer Cruson, sports events; Jerry Flesey, floor show; Ross Grover, decorations; Bernard Eastman, budget; Hammy Chadder-don, prizes; Duane Alters, publicity and advertising, and Harry Miller, band.

Lois Wilson, Editor-in-Chief lockers, the perennial one-act play contest, camera club news—and, the familiar cry about the power-packed Vale Vikings' football team. Staff of 24 Students First advisor for The Bulldog staff was a Mr. Sherman, the journalism teacher in 1939. Other staff members included Ken Lewis, managing editor; Stanley Ray and Chester Council, managers; Harold Holmes, Charles Short and Leo Ray, sports editors; Verma Mitchell and Lloyd Boyles, news editors; Elsie Nein, society editor; Gerald Warren, feature editor, and Harry Chost, exchange editor.

Reporters were Louise Tensen, Betty Tillman, Barbara Browne, Pauline Gann, Betty Chard, Marjorie Rowell, Ramona Henderson, Elma Nye, Betty Rookstool and Roy Brady. The Bulldog has been published bi-monthly every year since the first edition, with the exception of last year when it was published on an every-three-weeks basis. The second edition was distributed among students this week, thus returning to the original bi-monthly publication schedule.

Lois Wilson Heads 1953 Staff Lois Wilson, senior, is the 1953-54 school term editor-in-chief. Her staff assistants include Phyllis Cheldelin, news editor; Jorene Stafford, feature editor; Rex Neiger, sports editor; June Peterson, business manager; Onna Pounds and Lynette Hickman, advertising managers; Dorothy Yoneyama, circulation manager, and Don Poulson, compositor. Reporters are Bonnie Mitchell, Bonnie Mullins, Venice Allred, Virginia Tucker and Carl Tyler. Staff advisor and journalism teacher is Louis Attebery. This staff will be represented at the annual Oregon High School Press conference, to be held at Eugene Friday and Saturday, Oct. 23, and 24, under sponsorship of the University of Oregon School of Journalism.

All issues of The Bulldog are neatly bound through 1948, two years to the volume, and are on file in the school library. The years 1949 through 1952 are soon to be bound, according to R. V. Wilson, high school principal. Wilson also stated that there are a few missing issues, and that a campaign is soon to be launched by the school in the endeavor to recover them. Interested persons are invited by Wilson to visit the high school library and "bone" up on by-gone days through the Bulldog files.

Here Are The Candidates In The Gate City Journal Subscription Campaign

Each active candidate in this campaign is sure of winning a prize bicycle or a cash commission as there will be one prize bicycle and four cash commissions for each five active candidates.

The candidates are separate into two districts. Those living outside the city limits of Nyssa are in District Number One, and those living inside the city limits of Nyssa are in District No. Two, but any candidate may secure subscriptions from anyone, anywhere. The first two choices of prize bicycles will be given to the highest candidate in each district. . . the higher of the two District winners having first choice and the high candidate in the other district having second choice. The other prize bicycles will be given to the candidates regardless of which district they are in, having the next highest number of votes. The active candidates who do not win one of the prize bicycles will each receive a cash commission equal to 15 percent of all money he or she has turned in for subscriptions.

Following is an alphabetical list of the young men and young ladies who have signified a desire to work in this campaign. As The Journal goes to press this week complete returns had not been received from all candidates, making it impossible to publish the corrected final list of actually active candidates. The official list of active candidates will be announced in next week's paper and will comprise those in the following list who remain active by reporting on each Wednesday and each Saturday:

greater this year. Estimates for 1953 are for $5,500,000 as compared with $7,300,000 a year ago. Last year's figure was down about $800,000 from that of 1951. In analyzing changes in gross income, general cattle prices have been lower than the average for several years, while the potato price this year is being compared with an "unusual" season in 1952 when the market was far above the average for several years. Potato shipments for Malheur county have exceeded all records since 1950 with a total of 4,133 cars up to Oct. 20. Of this amount more than 55 percent were shipped from the Nyssa terminal which had shipped a total of 2,279 cars as of that date.

BRIDGE ISLAND FARMERS TACKLE HUGE JOB (Continued from Page 1) the moorings on the island side gave way. Even though the cable was anchored deep in the ground and guyed to planks buried beneath eight tons of soil with heavy equipment on top of it, the moorings failed to hold and it was seen that the bridge could not be lifted high enough to clear the piers. The cable was taken down and returned to Eugene, but the farmers were not defeated. They are now working on an alternative plan to float the east end of the bridge on the ferry by lifting the other end with a hoist truck to get the bridge across the river and at the side of the piers. Those devoting their time and expense to the project expressed some disappointment and even a little disgust to think of the days of labor and expense used to install the large cable, but their determination overshadowed any pessimism. Tuesday evening the Journal was
