The payment represents 723,371 tons of beets delivered to the two factories in October with the Nyssa factory receiving 392,000 tons Hospital Needs of the total. The Nyssa district includes all of Malheur county, Weiser, Payette, Buckingham and Parma in addition to beets sliced for Marsing ed Saturday morning by the hospital and Homedale, Lewis said.

The initial payment does not include $2.40 per ton government payment and an additional amount will be paid by the sugar company when the sugar is sold.

Another payment amounting to 83 quarts of fruit and 35 glasses of $2,000,000 will be made next Wednesday for all beets delivered from Nov. 1 through Nov. 15.

Lewis said that only about 6000 tons of beets, or about one percent, remained to be harvested out of a total of more than a half million tons in the Nyssa district. The two factories will have processed about one million tons of beets at the close of the current campaign.

All indications point to an average sugar content as good as last year and it is expected that the yield per acre will surpass the record set last year when the average was 23.04 tons, the company manager predicted.
