

An All-Time Favorite

A big dish of succulent Sauerkraut and Pork Hocks is a sure-hit with the men in the family. Both the sauerkraut and pork hocks (or knuckles) are easy on the food pennies.

If your family prefers another vegetable instead of sauerkraut, canned greens, or green and wax beans are seasoned to perfection with pork hocks. Cook the meat slowly and add the vegetables a few minutes before serving. Where time is an element, cook the hocks the night before or in the morning and store in the refrigerator. Serve fluffy mashed potatoes, canned spiced peaches or apricots, and a crisp salad to round out the main course. It's an easy meal to get when you use canned foods. The cleaning and pre-work has been done in the canners' kitchens.

Sauerkraut and Pork Hocks

- 2 cups water
- 3 lbs. pork hocks (4 to 6 hocks)
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 No. 2 1/2 can sauerkraut

Bring water to boiling; add pork hocks and salt. Cover and simmer very gently until tender (about 2 hours). Add sauerkraut and continue to simmer for another 10 minutes. Four to six generous servings.

TRY THESE CANNED VEGETABLE AND PORK HOCK COMBINATIONS:

- (1) Peas and onions with pork hocks.
- (2) Spinach or other greens with pork hocks.
- (3) Green or wax beans with pork hocks.

A Breakfast of Old-Fashioned Goodness

If you've forgotten how good breakfast can be, sit down to an old-fashioned breakfast of steaming hot oatmeal and milk, homemade Oat Bread to be toasted or not, and smothered with strawberry preserves. Take time for peeling the orange to eat it, segment by segment, as you did in your little girl days. Here is a meal that's as good for you as it is good, and there's no age limit on enjoying a breakfast like this.

Old-Fashioned Oat Bread

- 1 cake compressed yeast
- 1/4 cup lukewarm water
- 1 teaspoon granulated sugar
- 4 tablespoons fat
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 2 cups rolled oats, uncooked
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup cold water
- 5 cups sifted all-purpose flour (approximately)

Crumble yeast into small bowl. Add lukewarm water and granulated sugar. Set in a warm place until mixture is light and bubbly (about 15 minutes). Combine fat, salt, molasses, brown sugar, rolled oats in large bowl. Stir in 1 cup boiling water. When lukewarm, add yeast mixture, then flour and cold water alternately. Mix until soft dough is formed.

Turn out on floured cloth or board. Knead until smooth and satiny to the touch, sprinkling more flour on cloth if necessary. Place in greased bowl. Brush top of dough with melted fat. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Turn dough onto lightly floured cloth or board. Divide into 2 portions for molding. Let rest, covered with kettle or bowl, for about 10 minutes. Then shape into 2 loaves. Place in greased loaf pans 4 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches. Brush tops with melted fat. Cover with waxed paper and a damp cloth. Let rise until double in bulk, about 1 hour. When loaves are about half risen, brush top with milk and sprinkle over the surface rolled oats, about 1/2 cup for each loaf, moistened with milk.

Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) 15 minutes, then reduce temperature to moderately hot oven (375° F.) and bake about 30 minutes longer. Remove from pans. Cool on rack. Yield: 2 loaves.
