Mrs. Ada Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Newgen and Patty Rice came home a week ago Friday from a long vacation trip. They visited Mrs. Harrison's son Fred Harrison and her daughters, Mrs. Max Brown both of Portland and Mrs. Goldie Lustin in Longview. Then they went to Hood River to visit John Harrison, then to White Salmon, Wash., to visit a cousin of Patty's Keith Forney. They came home by way of Pendleton. The weather was wonderful and the roads were good, they report.

The directors of the Oregon Trail all held a business meeting at the Neil Dimmick home Sunday evening.

Thursday the Oregon Trail Grange and Riding club fed two hundred people at the meeting of the corn growers for the Idaho Cannery at Nyssa at the Oregon Trail hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Dimmick went to Boise Monday to get a pickup they bought at the government sale there.

Members of the Owyhee Riding club and Oregon Trail Grange have been quite busy working in the Oregon Trail hall. They have been building a kitchen, complete, with hot water and double sink as some of the features. The water heater was donated by the Idaho Power. The kitchen is almost completed now, and the varnishing is well underway. The rest of the building (which is now one big room) is to be aisled and painted, which will take the hall quite up-to-date and ready for any meeting.

O. P. Council had a rock fragment in his eye and had to have it removed last Thursday.

Molasses Flavors A Home Barbecue

Barbecued spareribs and chicken are atune to brisk weather days. If you think barbecued meats are elaborate of preparation, you're in for a surprise. The sauce is a sweet-spicy blend of unsulphured molasses, tomato sauce, vinegar, mustard and onion. These ingredients, heated one minute, are ready to baste baked spareribs or broiled chicken. Mellow unsulphured molasses contributes to the sauce's rich reddish-brown color, and it balances the tart flavor of tomato.

Molasses Barbecue Sauce

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil one minute. YIELD: $\frac{1}{2}$ cup.

Barbecued Spareribs

Have 3 pounds spareribs cut in serving pieces. Place in shallow pan. Roast in a moderate oven (350° F.) 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 hours. Baste with Barbecue Sauce twice during last hour of roasting. YIELD: 6 servings.

Barbecued Chicken

Have a 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 2-pound broiler cut in half. Place in shallow pan; skin side up. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours; turn twice during baking. Baste with barbecue sauce during last hour of baking. YIELD: 2 servings.
