Girl To Be Chosen To Enter Contest

At a meeting of the Gate City Camp of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers held recently, plans were made to enter a girl in the contest for the "Days of 47" Queen, who will reign at the annual Mormon celebration in Utah.

To be eligible, a girl must be a descendant of a Utah pioneer, who crossed the plains before May 10, 1869; must be a total abstainer from tobacco and alcoholic beverages; unmarried and from 18 to 25 years of age.

The girl will be judged on appearance, poise, grace, general intelligence, speaking ability and availability, in that she must be able to go to all of the activities given in her honor.

Judging will be May 27, Thursday, at 7 p. m. in the La Fayette Ballroom in the Hotel Utah in Salt Lake City. The candidates will appear in afternoon or street dress and formal attire. The crowning ceremonies will be July 4 at the University stadium. All candidates will be attendants to the queen.

A girl will be chosen to enter from Nyssa sometime later this month according to Mrs. Ed Larsen, captain of the Nyssa D.U.P. Eligible girls are Vela Dee Poulson, Nanette Bybee, Karma Kessler, Colleen Bybee, June Peterson, Elsa Sanders, Janice Williams, Deane Irving, Kleo Wight, Gladys Lewis, Laura Schenk and Frances Feik.
