Molded Salmon Salad for Summer

This handsome Molded Salmon Salad is an appetizing entree for a hot summer day. For a real salmon mousse, a one-pound can of salmon is combined with heavy cream in the gelatin mixture. Cream also goes into the elegant Cucumber Cream Dressing. For purposes of economy or calorie cutting, however, evaporated milk does very well in the salmon mold.

For a luncheon foursome, put the mixture into individual molds. For buffet supper, double the recipe and serve on a fancy platter, as shown in the photo.

Canned salmon is ready to use the instant you open the can. Every bit is edible—there is no waste. And it's been brought from the sea direct to you, sealed before cooking and cooked in a way that can't be matched at home.

Molded Salmon Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 1-pound can salmon
1 cup cold water
1 cup finely diced celery
1 cup vinegar
1 cup heavy cream, whipped or
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup cold evaporated milk, whipped
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Soften gelatin in cold water and vinegar. Place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt and mustard, stir until blended. Cool. Drain and flake salmon; stir into gelatin mixture with celery. Fold in whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk. Turn into individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold and serve with mayonnaise or Cucumber Cream Dressing. If desired, serve with tomato slices and salad greens. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

*Cucumber Cream Dressing
1/2 cup well drained finely chopped cucumbers
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vinegar

Do not peel cucumber, wash and chop very fine; drain well. Combine all ingredients. YIELD: 6 servings.

NOTE: For easy Buffet service, Molded Salmon Salad recipe may be doubled and turned into an 8-inch cake pan, 2-inches deep. Unmold and cut into 8 wedge shaped pieces.
