A Special Election Is Needed

The proposed purchase of Vale's Union high school building for a courthouse has been kicked around pro and con for several weeks and has finally been settled down to serious but incomplete discussion. Many residents of the Nyssa and Ontario communities assert that the purchase price of $125,000 is a "bargain" and ranks of the proponents have increased since the proposal was first made.

The Journal believes the proposal is highly worthy of consideration, but advocates of the transaction—and made public. So far, estimates have been "about $65,000," or "it won't be very much." At the same time engineers' reports and architects' figures should be obtained to reveal the condition of the present courthouse and to give estimates of costs to enlarge and renovate the structure.

First of all, some definite figures on remodeling costs for the school building should be obtained and made public. So far, estimates have been "about $65,000," or "it won't be very much." At the same time engineers' reports and architects' figures should be obtained to reveal the condition of the present courthouse and to give estimates of costs to enlarge and renovate the structure.

Second, the Malheur county court should not wait for petitions asking for an election on the issue, but should call a special election before the transaction is made.

If the proposal is economically sound, which there is every indication it is, facts and figures made public will result in overwhelming approval by the registered voters of the county.

If there is some "hitch" to the proposal—a possibility, but not a probability—and the court goes ahead and makes the purchase without a county-wide vote, there could be serious repercussions for years to come.

Only a small minority of the county's taxpayers have been involved in the controversy on both sides. Complete facts and figures and a county vote will place the responsibility where it belongs—on the people of Malheur county.

Let's Do It Every Week

Residents of this area should observe Sugar Beet Week 52 times a year by insisting on beet sugar when they make their purchase, then making certain it is White Satin.

The value of the sugar beet industry can best be illustrated by calling attention to the fact that last year Nyssa's Amalgamated Sugar Co. factory processed 502,246 tons of beets grown in this area with $6,780,000 returned to the growers. During the campaign the Nyssa factory had a weekly payroll averaging $43,000 and at the present time when no beets are processed the payroll averages $12,000 each week.

These economic factors affect not only Nyssa, but all of the lower Snake river valley and the entire Northwest. In fact, White Satin is the only complete line of beet sugar produced in America including not only fine granulated and powdered, but also brown, cube and superfine in packages.

When more White Satin is consumed in the Northwest, more money will find its way to local growers because of freight rates they must pay when far-away markets must be used.

An unsurpassed purity analysis with a rating of 99.9 percent should assure all homemakers that there is no other choice than White Satin.

AT THE HEAD OF THE SWEET PARADE
 June 28 — July 3

"Sugar Beet Sugar Week"—by official proclamation from the state capitol—swings into local action on June 28 and will continue through Saturday, July 3. Local sugar beet growers and sugar factory workers are asking fellow townspeople in all lines of business to help observe the first annual week giving recognition to beet sugar.

A general open house will be maintained at the Amalgamated Sugar Company plants throughout the week. Citizens are invited to make plant tours, either individually or in groups. "Sugar Beet Sugar Week"—a week when everybody will be a little sweeter than usual—when there will be sugar, sugar, local beet sugar everywhere in retail stores, department stores, banks—and yes, even in hardware stores!

Local sugar beet growers and sugar factory workers are promoting "Sugar Beet Sugar Week" locally with a "BUILD YOUR COMMUNITY" theme.

A Few Lines to be Read on the 4th of July-

They say that you're fearful, afraid, Indiana, Utah, Maine, and the Carolinas, Georgia, Ohio, and the Dakotas . . . States—people—Americans. They say that you're fearful, Vermont, California—fearful of what? Of whom? And why? Why is the Big Question, Oregon, Washington (Washington, who were you named for?) Illinois, Arizona, Nevada, Oklahoma, Missouri—all the Great 48

All fearful, afraid, they say . . . They—fearful little men in big city towers, in ivory towers: Whispering, muttering: words maledictions, woes, predictions, suspicions—GLOOM . . . DOOM—

Fearful little men with books and pens: Oracular, vernacular, picture-tubes, mikes—

Do they know America? Do they feel America?
 Do they know you, great united states, great plain and mountains?

You're not afraid, are you? Louisiana, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma . . . Or are you?

Remember, today the Fourth of July, That there was a July 4, 1776, when 13 puny Colonies with no Army or Navy, no nothing at all but brave, brave hearts—13 poor little patches of patriots, Americans, who stood up bold to the King of England and the might of his Empire, and boldly, bravely

"RESOLVED: That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States: that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown; and that all political connections between them and the state of Great Britain is, and Ought to be, Totally Dissolved."

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA . . .

And you, Forty-eight, Are Afraid Today?

"I only regret," said Nathan Hale, "that I have but one life to lose for my country."

"I have not yet begun to fight," said John Paul Jones.

Remember them? . . . And the pioneers, the covered wagons, the unknown, the savages, the vast unexplored, the frontiers, the hardships—

Remember Daniel Boone, Kit Carson, Jim Bridger, Davy Crockett—General George Custer on the Little Big Horn? Remember Sam Houston, the Alamo—

What if they had been afraid! . . . Remember the Marines on Iwo Jima?

What is a heritage, Americans—a faint, fearful heart? If we're afraid today, the Question is, why?

We've got the Hydrogen Bomb; we know how to wipe out cities, to vaporize people—

Have we discovered that—and lost God? ?
