MALHEUR COUNTY'S proposed courthouse for which plans have been drawn by H. Grant Gessell, Portland architect. The top picture is a sketch of Vale's present Union high school building that has been offered to the county for $125,000 for a courthouse building. The floor plan provides space for all county offices including the county agent's and other departments now located in Ontario. According to County Judge G. Y. Chester, ample room is available to add other offices and to expand those already specified in the blue prints. The rooms on the upper right of the floor plan are for jury accommodations.

Episcopal Church News

The Rev. Carl H. Gross left for Salt Lake City last Friday where he is attending a conference and laboratory on the group dynamics movement and the Church. Rev. Gross was elected to participation in this conference by the National Council of the Episcopal Church in New York City, after being nominated for the membership by Bishop Barton of Eastern Oregon. The Conference will close on Aug. 27.

Three members of St. Paul's Young People's Fellowship, Kristin Rinehart, Mike Eastman and Dirk Rinehart, left Monday for the ascension summer school, Episcopal Camp for the district of Eastern Oregon at Cove. Enrollment for this senior session is 110.

The Rev. Gross strongly urges members and friends of St. Paul's congregation to attend the Spanish potluck supper Saturday at 8 p. m. at the Nyssa Farm Labor, camp.

FILM TO BE SHOWN
"The Beginning," a 45 minute film, will be presented Sunday morning, Aug. 22, at 11:15 at the Adrian United Presbyterian church. The public is invited to see the film which will be shown preceding the church service.
