

Days Gone By in Nyssa Community

From the Journal Files

10 Years Ago Nov. 2, 1944

Mrs. Virginia Bybee was badly burned when a water kettle exploded. — Rev. M. H. Greenlee has resigned the pastorage of the Methodist church to accept a similar position at Kimberly, Idaho. — Sixty students were still out of high school working in the harvest fields and packing sheds following a 2-weeks "harvest vacation" which ended this week. — Mrs. Charles Swan, member of the Vale union high school faculty, has been elected president of the Malheur chapter of the Oregon Teacher's association. — Bernard Frost was appointed chairman of the 6th war loan drive in the Nyssa area. — Between $90 and $100 was taken from the Inland Oil company service station by burglars sometime Tuesday night. — Lloyd Lewis, postmaster, issued a warning to local residents to be sure and turn the combination after their boxes are closed. He said youngsters have been pulling open the boxes which is a federal offense.

15 Years Ago—Nov. 2, 1938

Final survey on the sewer disposal plant, the last unit of the $42,000 sewer project, got underway Monday as the surveyors started surveying the layout. Fife & Co. was awarded the contract. — The new union high school was formally dedicated in an inspiring and well-rounded program put on by the Nyssa Civic club. Mrs. Andrew Boersma, president of the club was chairman of the affair, who appointed Frank Morgan to act as master of ceremonies. — Just one year ago when water was turned out of the canals, there was just 1 well and 1 pond in Cow Hollow. People were hauling water for stock and household use. This year there are only 2 homes without water. Most of the settlers have deep wells or cisterns and there are 5 stock ponds. Chet Sage is the first one to pump water with electricity. With the coming of electricity there have been several radios installed. — Preliminary work of clearing and subsoiling the land upon which the city park is to be developed started today.

25 Years Ago—Nov. 1, 1929

The home of Bud Anderson was badly damaged by fire. — The city is improving the streets by graveling 1000 yards. Sam Playford has the contract. — The C. C. Hunt apple packing house has closed operation for the season this week. The company started packing apples Sept. 21. The annual big feed for employees was Wednesday. — R. S. Madden and L. A. Harom and George Meffan of Nampa appraised about 600 acres of land in Malheur county condemned by the government for reservoir purposes for the Owyhee dam. The land has been sold to the government by settlers whose property has been involved. — George Goodrick is tearing down his house and moving it to Payette. The lumber will be used in the construction of a residence at that place.

30 Years Ago—Oct. 31, 1924

The street light on the corner of Third and Main was jarred loose from its moorings when some reckless driver drove his car across the corner. — Through the courtesy of G. I. Rawlins, J. Boydell, Wilson Bros. and Eddie Powell, the public will have the opportunity on Tuesday evening of hearing the election returns by radio. No charge will be made. The news will be received in the empty building next to the Rosebud. — W. H. Pennington of Long Beach, Calif., was a visitor in Nyssa this week. — The Journal called attention to the fact that no county official has ever been chosen from the Nyssa district. — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klingback and Mrs. A. M. De Bord arrived from a week's visit in Walla Walla. They made the trip in 10 hours.

35 Years Ago—Oct. 31, 1919

W. B. Hoxie is building a 3-room addition to his residence. — George Green is finishing his little brick cottage in the north part of the city. — Otis Ogle is a new employee at the Nyssa Meat Market. — The typewriters for the Nyssa high school arrived this week and classes are now working industriously. — Mr. Tronsdale and Principle Kakebreke are now doing the janitor work at the school house, as Mr. Newby has resigned. Three schools on Dead Ox Flat have employed Miss Crescentia Glatt as a special teacher of art and music. The schools are Pioneer, Jefferson and Park. — About 5 inches of snow fell Tuesday. Not only hay, but a lot of spuds and other vegetables are in the ground. This snow storm is the first of its kind in many years.

40 Years Ago—Oct. 30, 1914

Members of the Farmers and Business Men's League of Nyssa signed a petition, requesting a joint debate with the speaker from Ontario and Vale to discuss the removal of the county seat from Vale to Ontario. Vale refused to debate with Ontario. — The basket ball team members of Nyssa are: Virgil Vogle, Rusk Redry, Bob Thompson, Blaine Gibson and Don Davis. The girls team members are: Evelyn Cheeley, Lola Forbes, Lulu Megorrdon, Maude Largent and Cloe Anderson. — Brown Bros. became the sole owners of the Gate NYSSA'S FIRST STORE to be established on the west side of the railroad tracks was the general store operated by John Lackey shown on the left. The other man is unidentified. The store was located on the southeast corner of Bower and First street. The building has been remodeled and is now a dwelling. Bob Thompson, from whose collection this picture was taken, estimated that this first store on the west side was established soon after the turn of the century. Within a short time more stores and business firms opened on First street, which paralleled the railroad track and was Nyssa's Main street at that time.

"Garden of Evil" Vivid, Exciting

There are four major stars in the new cinemascope-technicolor motion picture, "Garden of Evil," now playing at the Nyssa Theatre, and four minor stars. The major stars are Gary Cooper, Susan Hayward, Richard Widmark, and the scenery of Mexico.

The minor stars are Hugh Marlowe, Cameron Mitchell, Rita Moreno and Victor Manuel Mendoza.

The movie, filmed in Mexico, captures on the cinemascope screen some of the most breathtaking scenery ever photographed as a background for explosive action and adventure. The plot concerns a search for gold—and then escape from marauding Apaches.

An ancient holy man named the region of the story's action—and the passions and greeds of men supply the motivation for one of the years' top adventure features.

City Journal when they purchased the interests of the Gate City Publishing Co. E. L. Merritt who has been associated with Win S. Brown for the past 5 months, has severed his connection with the paper and is leaving Nyssa.

"7" WON'T WORK

here's why

★ Interferes with Oregon's program to conserve and maintain the salmon resource.
★ Would idle more than 1800 fishermen and $11,680,000 equipment.

★ Closes every Oregon coastal port south of Astoria to commercial salmon fishermen.
★ Grabs for a few a resource that belongs to all the people of Oregon.
