Along The EDITOR'S BEET

Fred Bracken and Jake Fischer had a field day Thursday when the state election returns shifted and gave Democrat Dick Neuberger a slight majority over Republican Guy Cordon for the latter's seat in the U. S. Senate.

It has been reported that these two local Demos had placed a little money on Neuberger, just to prove they are loyal Democrats and not because they thought he had a chance to break a 40-year tradition. One of their Republican friends in Bracken's part of town, told the Journal confidentially that they were no more optimistic than members of the overly confident GOP.

It seems that late Wednesday afternoon, Bracken paid off some of his political debts thinking that Cordon was back in the saddle. He didn't mind the loss because of his exultation over Emil Stunz's victory in the race for representation in the legislature which Bracken helped by his part in the local Republicans and Democrats for Stunz committee.

Come Thursday morning with reports that Neuberger was 2,271 votes ahead of Cordon and not enough precincts unreported to close the gap. Bracken started making the rounds to collect the dough he had paid out plus the amounts due on the bet. Republicans on Main street were bothered with a lot of heckling Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kreps, Mrs. Floyd Kreps, and family all of New Plymouth, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rouse.

Jake Fischer gave the Journal a bad time early Thursday about Ex-Sen. Cordon's picture being used. Of course we reminded him that the news story was qualified with the statement, "Returns from over the state at noon Wednesday gave Cordon a slight lead over Neuberger; . . ." Fischer accepted the explanation by stating that he just wanted to be real sure some of the Republicans were not trying to shove Cordon into office in spite of Neuberger's plurality.

Of course, we told Fischer that we are running the new senator's picture on the front page this week, even if we have to leave out some news. Anybody who can break a 40-year tradition deserves his face on the front page of every paper in the state just as a reminder to the GOP that they shouldn't get too sure of themselves.

Another alibi forthcoming from the Gate City Journal editor was that if one of the big Portland dailies could make such a mistake, a weekly was entitled to the same error. Of course, the dailies can make their amends the following day while the weekly has to wait seven days and take the barbs just seven times as long.

He helps teachers

Radio was barely out of the earphone stage 26 years ago when a new program was beamed from a San Francisco studio. It featured a string trio and was based on the idea that good music, when clearly understood, could entertain and teach, too. Actually, only 72 Western schools had radio sets then, but with that performance the Standard School Broadcast went "on the air," to serve students and teachers of the West with a brand-new idea in educational aids.

Today, when Conductor Carmen Dragon lifts his baton, it's "time for the Standard School Broadcast" in over 54,000 classrooms through the West, Alaska and Hawaii. Counting children, teachers and home listeners, the program reaches a weekly audience of nearly 1 1/2 million. That string trio has grown to a symphonic orchestra with a dramatic cast, choral group and guest vocal and instrumental artists. Selections range the musical alphabet from symphony to jazz. Each year's course follows a carefully planned outline published in a manual supplied to teachers by Standard to serve as a guide in blending music-enjoyment with subjects like art, literature, social studies. Now in its 27th year, the Standard School Broadcast is radio's oldest education program, heard today over more than 100 stations. Its goal is to help Western children gain an absorbing new interest in the world's good music and—through music—a broader knowledge and understanding of the world around them.

Listen to Standard School Broadcast every Thursday. Check your newspaper radio log for time and station.
