Packed House For Globetrotter Game Tuesday

A packed crowd witnessed the world famous Harlem Globetrotters down the Boston Whirlwinds 64-43 in the main event of two hours of the fast, well played basketball Tuesday evening at the Nyssa high school gymnasium. The Trotters jumped to an early lead against the whirlwinds and then went into crowd-pleasing basketball tricks which seemed to amaze even the Whirlwinds. Bevo Francis, former Rio Grande college star, who stands a tall 6 foot 9 inches in his stocking feet, tanked 14 points for the Whirlwind squad, while only playing approximately 20 minutes of the whole game.

In the two preliminary games the Whirlwinds downed the College of Idaho Pups 42-25, with the Globetrotters taking over the second game from the Pups 43-29.

Three specialty acts were presented during the half with Umberto Basso and his wife putting on a juggling act along with a team of Cartland and Reisman, who staged an exhibition table tennis match, and Elimar, a variety artist, performing an outstanding act.

Youngster Eats Rat Poison Wafer

Sunset Valley—Melvin Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wilson, became ill Monday evening after the child ate a small amount of rat poison in the form of wafers. The youngster's condition was reported as not serious, but his parents stated that it will be a week before it is known whether enough of the poison was eaten to result in complications.

The OKK club will serve dinner for the Lynn Kygar sale Feb. 18.

Long Time Nyssa Resident Dies In Vet's Hospital

Funeral services were Monday at Lienksemper's Chapel for Sidney Samuel Burbidge, who died in the Veterans hospital in Vancouver, Wash., Feb. 2, following a brief illness. The Rev. John L. Briehl conducted the services.

Mr. Burbidge was born March 27, 1894, in England and moved to Nyssa in 1912. He was married to Dorothy Hoover in 1932 in Portland and they operated the Nyssa Packing Co. until 1952.

Survivors include his wife, and three daughters, Mrs. George Espinoza, Betty Jean Burbidge and Mrs. Leon Martinez; one granddaughter, and two sisters in England.

Pall bearers for the services were Ernest Wilson, Barney Wilson, Andy Swan, Krown Hopp, W. C. Brown and Al Thompson, honorary and Aden Wilson, W. J. Browne, Eddie Taylor, Bill Schirman, Bill Savage and Pete Shaw, acting.

Interment was in the Nyssa cemetery in the Veterans plot.

Nyssans Attend Funeral Services

Mr. and Mrs. Glade Chadwick have been in American Fork, Utah, to be with Mr. Chadwick's mother, Mrs. Gilbert Chadwick, who has been seriously ill in the hospital there for several months. Mrs. Chadwick passed away Jan. 29. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Terhune joined their daughter and son-in-law, in Pleasant Grove, Utah, to attend the funeral services on Feb. 2.

The Chadwicks and the Terhunes returned home together Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schweizer attended a family dinner and shower at the Oregon Trail hall, given in honor of the Charley Glens.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Williams and Mrs. Fred Deffer visited at the Donald Brewer home Saturday evening.
