Hospitals Need Your Help

(Contributed)

The hospital you started in October 1950 is a living monument to the driving force of that pioneer spirit Nyssa so possesses, a spirit that few communities in these United States still possess.

From out of great hearts you have given an institution for the care and comfort of the sick and aged to all those who come to your doors. Never has this community hospital turned away sick because of any lack of funds, nor have they differentiated in any way because of race or creed.

Not once since 1950 has this hospital you created needed help from you who started it. Obeying your dictates, taking care of all who asked for help, and caring for all manners of diseases, it has managed to weather the financial storms presented.

But now it has to ask you to help. This hospital of yours is sore sick. There is a mortgage to pay. There are paydays coming up. There are always new medications to buy and the new equipment the doctors use to save a life. There are bills presented each month for these things and they must be paid.

The teachers of Nyssa are deeply appreciative of the praise directed our way in your last week's editorial.

For as many years as we can remember our administrators have urged us to take part in as many civic organizations as time and energy would permit. We have been taught that a community does not ignore any group or any person which wants to serve. Our leaders have practiced what they preached. Those who have followed their example have been happy community accepted citizens. We haven't had time to "feel sorry for the poor school teacher."

We would like to take credit for the lack of juvenile delinquency in the Nyssa area. Perhaps we have been a contributing factor. We are perfectly willing to place the credit for our fine youngsters right where it belongs, namely the homes and parents from which they come.

Teaching is so much more pleasant in a community where education and educators are respected. As the years roll by, it seems that interest in Nyssa schools increases. Our Parent - Teacher association has shown a steady growth. That is as it should be. Your youngsters are your most precious life project and every parent should show his or her interest in their education by meeting and talking with their youngster's teachers.

We will look forward to meeting you as well as your children next September.

Sincerely yours, Nyssa Education Assn. Mrs. Hazel Lane, president.

Standard's "Wood-Welder" helps supply you with a famous Pacific Northwest product

In 50 Jubilee years Douglas fir plywood has become one of America's most useful building materials. Demand—more than doubled since 1945—is still rising. To help meet this boom, Standard has put one of petroleum's newest products to work. Last year we completed the West's most modern plant to produce Phenol from petroleum. Key to glues that make plywood split-proof, waterproof, Phenol once came only from the East, frequently became scarce. Now, plywood men have a nearby source; can save shipping time, costs. It's another way Standard serves you, the homes, farms, industries of a growing Pacific Northwest.

...and our Free Scenic Views capture the West's golden beauty. Now you can collect full-color pictures of the West's most beautiful scenes—absolutely FREE! Each 11 1/2 x 14 inch print is superbly lithographed, handsomely matted, ready to frame; has descriptive story, photo data. A new print given away each week, exclusively at Standard Stations and independent Chevron Stations.
