

ANK Garden Club Hosts Annual Show, "Festival of Flowers"

The ANK Garden club was host club for the annual flower show of the Malheur district garden clubs Saturday from 2 to 3 p. m. The show, whose theme this year was "Festival of Flowers" was given in the Community house in Parma and attended by a large crowd.

In appreciation, the Parma Chamber of Commerce presented the club with $10.

There were over 100 arrangements on display. One long table held only green arrangements and another featured white. There were also separate tables for colors and themes.

The table of miniature arrangements attracted much attention as did the large flower cart near the entrance. A table of corsages was also outstanding.

One corner of the room presented a garden patio with large umbrella table and potted flowers. Two African violet revolving tables were filled and displays from the Marianas and other islands were interesting.

Visitors from Caldwell, Vale and many other towns were jotted down names of the newer flowers such as the Atlas Syringa and the day lilies which were used in the arrangements.

At 3:30 and at 7:30, the dancing class of Mrs. Donald Taylor accompanied by Miss Deloras Will- ever, entertained. During the day, subdued background music was heard from the record library of Rev. Ralph Marshall.

The tea table had pink and blue flowers and appointments on a lace cloth and presiding at the punch bowls during the afternoon and evening were Meses. L. J. Hadley and Fred Zimmerman of Vale, C. B. Hill, C. H. Bennett and Maurice Judd of Nyssa.

Mrs. O. E. Chedelin was chairman of the tea committee assisted by Mrs. Clyde Snider, Mrs. C. B. Hill, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, and Mrs. Earl McClure of Caldwell.
