Two-Deer Season Bonus Possible For Ore. Hunters

For a special fee of $5, some 4,500 Oregon nimrods will have the chance of bagging two deer during the 1955 seasons is the word released today by the Oregon Game Commission.

Eight of the nine controlled deer areas are set up as bonus hunts, with participants eligible for the regular deer seasons as well. Hunters who wish to participate in the bonus hunts are reminded that application blanks are now available at game commission offices and at all license agencies. A fee of $5 for each person applying must accompany the applications filed.

Public drawings for all controlled hunts will be held at the game commission's Portland office, 1634 S. W. Alder. Applications must be filed on or before the specified closing dates to be eligible for the drawings.

The earliest bonus hunts will take place in the John Day river (Wheeler and Grant counties) and Wallowa mountain areas from September 3 through September 7, with 1,000 either sex deer tags scheduled to be drawn for the John Day hunt and 600 for the Wallowa area. Hunters who wish to participate must have their applications filed at the game commission's Portland office by 10 a.m., August 15. A public drawing will be held on August 18 at 10 a.m.
