Malheur Pioneer Picnic Set For Friday, Aug. 26

Members of the executive committee of the Malheur County Pioneer association held a planning and program meeting Sunday afternoon at the Vale home of I. W. Hope, the organization's permanent president. The session was concerned with the approaching 42nd annual reunion of oldtime settlers of Malheur county and their descendants, which will be held in Vale's Riverside park Friday, Aug. 26.

Food will be furnished by the women of Vale and surrounding rural areas, except for meat, bread, coffee, sugar and cream, which is provided by the association. Friends not able to qualify for the 27-years-since-first-residence requirement of membership in the association are cordially invited to bring their own basket lunch if they wish to join in the visiting.

Table seating will be supplied for the older pioneers, probably according to previous qualifications of being 63 years or over, plus elderly guests or the infirm. The younger generations will be served cafeteria style. Vale's Junior Chamber of Commerce has a project afoot to provide a number of additional picnic tables for the park and it is hoped that some will be available for the big crowd for the reunion.

Dancing will be held in the evening for the families of the old settlers, and a special program is being arranged for the afternoon.

Of all the recent auto improvements, I like the automatic transmissions best of all.

For city driving, stop-and-go, nothing has given more comfort and ease. And the bugs have long since been worked out of these systems.

There's an important hint for driving with an automatic transmission that shouldn't be overlooked. If you have an automatic drive, you can put it into practice right away; if you haven't, we can show you many fine used cars with automatic drive and you can remember it with them.

Any engine should be warmed up before driving (we all know this, but how many of us remember to do it). One of the main reasons for warming up is that oil circulation isn't at normal until operating temperature is reached.

The importance of warming up is even more apparent with automatic transmissions. The car shouldn't be moved until the oil in the automatic transmission has had a chance to heat up.

Without heating up first, you can, so to speak, kill two expensive birds with one stone.

Automatic transmissions have now been firmly established long enough that a used car buyer can find plenty of cars—at bargain prices—that come equipped with the luxury of no-shift driving.

Perhaps luxury isn't quite the right word, although luxury is the word for the cushioning effect and smoother ride you get in a car with automatic drive. It's also strain-saver, and that's an important safety factor.

Know what model of car has increased in popularity more than any other in the past few years? It's the station wagon; people have found it so handy for carrying those out sized loads as a careful of relatives. We've a dandy that's this week's lead-off buy on our lot. It's a 1950 Ford V8 — 8 passenger job, a sharp car at a real savings.
