TOBLER'S FEED & FUEL, INC.

Nyssa, Oregon

HEALTH HINT

Beef cattle that were protected against horn flies gained an extra 15 to 30 pounds more than unprotected cattle in the grazing season in recent tests.

That means $3 to $6 extra income per head for a spray cost of about 10 cents.

Ask about Purina Stock Spray... easy to mix, low cost and gives long protection. Better still let's talk over your entire fly control program now. Let's kill those flies before they have too great a chance to multiply this summer.

WHY IT PAYS TO FEED CATTLE ON GRASS

It is very profitable to put most weight on cattle with roughages. Grass is usually the lowest cost roughage; but grasses, hay and silage should be properly supplemented to do their best work in the rumen.

Even on the most lush pasture, thousands of cattlemen have found a small amount of grain—around 3 pounds per head per day—fed with 1 pound of Purina Steer Fatena (32%) with 10 mg. of stillbestrol, will produce heavier gains at lower cost than will pasture alone. This is important as the cost per pound of gain put on the steers is one of the items which will influence the amount of profit you can realize when you sell them. It is also one that you can control to a certain extent by using the right program in order to obtain the cheapest gain.

As the pastures become drier later in the season, it is a good idea to increase the amount of grain and Steer Fatena to keep cattle gaining and finishing.

ARE YOU FEEDING WORMS

Let pigs and poultry worm themselves the drinking water way with Purina's new Liquid Wormers. Ask about them... newest products of Purina Research. It is easy to use and the hogs or poultry remain on the regular feeding program while they are worming themselves.
